

Michigan Democrats File On Bandwagon For Gov. Williams

(By The Associated Press)

Michigan Democrats, as expected, lined up almost solidly behind Governor Williams for the Presidential nomination today.

Party members came out of county conventions ready to whop it up for Williams' self-described "1,000 to 1" chance.

Whatever the odds, this will be Michigan's tactic as Chicago July 21 when the party's national convention assembles.

Last night's district and county conventions assured it, barring the wholly unexpected at the May 10 state convention in Grand Rapids.

Some, like industrial Saginaw, offered the 41-year-old governor support for any office he might desire, from the Presidency down. Many pledged their state convention delegates to Williams.

From all this, it appeared positive that Williams would get at least one-ballot favorite son support at the national convention.

Calhoun county was almost alone in that it failed to refer to Williams as a "favorite son" candidate. No reason was given, but residing convention officer Altonso A. Magnotta of Albion said he understood the county's delegation would support Williams for vice-president.

Truman Won't Go Home Broke Next January

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Harry S. Truman seems likely to be more comfortably fixed financially when he leaves the White House than he was when he entered it seven years ago.

There is no information available on how much of his pay the President has been able to salt away, but some of his associates believe it's enough to keep the wolf from coming anywhere near the Truman doorstep.

Draws $150,000 Yearly

The President, who announced Saturday night he wouldn't accept nomination for another term, has been drawing a $100,000-a-year salary since January, 1949—plus an annual $50,000 tax-free allowance.

When he took office April 12, 1945, the Presidential pay was $75,000 a year—all of it taxable. As vice president under Franklin D. Roosevelt from January until April of that year, Truman was paid at the rate of $20,000 a year—a job that now pays Alben Barkley $30,000 and a $10,000 non-taxable allowance.

As a Senator from Missouri before he was elected vice president, Truman's salary was $10,000 a year. That was $2,500 less base pay than Senators now receive, and they also currently draw a $2,500 tax-free expense allowance.

Wife Was Secretary

After becoming President, Truman let it be known that as a Senator he had to hire his wife as his secretary because his $10,000 salary would not pay all his expenses.

In 1947 when he had been President two years, it was estimated that he would have only about $4,200 left of his $75,000 salary after payment of taxes and expenses for 12 months.

At that time there were predictions that instead of having any

Friends Of Barkley Prepared To Boom Him For Presidency

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Friends of Vice President Alben Barkley needed only an expected nod from him today to push him into the scramble for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

They looked for him to be in the race within a few days.

"Now that President Truman has stepped aside, Mr. Barkley is the only man who can unite the various wings of the Democratic party this fall," Sen. Gillette (Dia.) told a reporter. "He's the best vote-getter in the Democratic party and he owes it to the party and to himself to make a formal announcement immediately," Gillette added.

Two veteran Democratic senators, Hoyer of North Carolina and George of Georgia, predicted in separate interviews the 74-year-old Barkley will be in the Presidential derby before the week ends.

And Sen. Underwood from Barkley's home state of Kentucky said Barkley would "carry all the doubtful states" and assure continued Democratic control of the House and Senate.

Hoyer said he has no inside information but is confident that Barkley will "announce his candidacy this week."

George, who is backing his Georgia colleague, Sen. Russell, for the nomination, said Barkley must seek the Presidential nomination even if he is only shooting for another term as vice president.

All congressmen and party leaders apparently have accepted at face value Truman's dramatic weekend announcement that he will not run for reelection.

Most of them also appeared confident that Truman would not attempt to name his successor, leaving that to the Democratic national convention in July.

Unhappy Private Kills Lieutenant

LAMPASAS, Tex.—(AP)—Authorities were trying to decide today whether civilian or military officers would charge a young soldier in the fatal shooting yesterday of a second lieutenant.

District Atty. James K. Evetts of Belton, Tex., quoted Pvt. Michael F. Kunak of Baltimore, Md., as saying, "I decided the best way to get out of the Army was to kill a man."

Evetts said Kunak made an oral statement to him, other officers and in the presence of a newspaper reporter regarding the fatal shooting of Lt. Howard Williamson, about 22, of Washington, N. C. around noon yesterday.

Williamson was shot in a Long Horn maneuvers bivouac. Witnesses said a young soldier walked into the officers' mess tent of the 82nd Airborne Division Signal Company, leveled a .30 caliber carbine at Williamson and fired.

Evetts said Kunak told of numerous attempts to get an Army discharge. "I had nothing against the man," Evetts quoted Kunak as saying. "There's nothing straight in my mind. I know I was wrong."

Kunak was placed in the Lampasas county jail by Sheriff Luther B. Person who said the young private used a bullet he had made out of a blank cartridge.

Netherlands Queen Flying To America

SCHIPHOL AIRPORT, Amsterdam, The Netherlands — (AP)—Queen Juliana of The Netherlands—cheered by thousands of her subjects—left by plane today for a month's visit to the United States and Canada.

The 43-year-old monarch's four-engine Constellation left the sunny, snow-patched airfield just before noon. The Queen is due in Washington at 4 p. m. EST tomorrow, after an overnight "beauty sleep" stop in Gander, Newfoundland.

Traveling with her are her husband, Prince Bernhard, Dutch Foreign Minister Dirk U. Stikker and 11 others.

Just before her departure she told newsmen she was "very much looking forward" to her visit to the United States where she said she would be able to "establish useful contacts for our country."

A main purpose of her trip is to say "thank you" for American aid to The Netherlands since the war. In Washington, where she will make a three-day state visit, the Queen will be the first guest of President and Mrs. Truman in the rebuilt White House.

The broadcasting company said last night she will appear on nine radio and video shows at a salary of $2,500 each. Extension of her original contract was arranged four weeks ago.

NBC, acting under a provision in the original contract, took up an option for another exclusive contract during the 1952-1953 season.

Miss Truman's original agreement with NBC called for 12 appearances during the 1951-1952 season. Her salary never was announced officially, but reports put it at $2,500 for each radio show and $4,000 for each TV performance.

Ten Migs Shot Down In Korea

SEOUL, Korea — (AP)—U. S. Sabre pilots shot down 10 Communist Mig-15 fighter planes, the second highest bag for any day in the Korean war.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said they also probably destroyed three other Migs and damaged 10.

The greatest number of Migs destroyed in one day in the Korean war was 13 last Dec. 13. Fifth Air Force Sabres destroyed 10 Migs last Jan. 25 but that day they scored only one probable and three damaged.

In one of Tuesday's eight separate battles, Col. Francis S. Gabreski of Oil City, Pa., commander of the 51st Fighter Interceptor Wing, became the eighth U. S. jet ace by shooting down a Mig in an ambush. It raised his total for the Korean fighting to five and one-half Migs. Five kills make an ace.

Twenty-six Sabres ambushed 16 Migs in the action about noon just south of the Yalu river, Manchurian-Korean boundary.

The others held out. They kept the trusty group prisoner. They threw plumbing equipment into an exercise yard. They fashioned weapons out of lead pipe and electric cables. They defied prison guards to come in and get them.

"They wanted us to make some promises, but we would not," said state commissioner of institutions and agencies Sanford Bates.

Bates, under whose direction all prisoners in the state operate, said the men decided to release the trusty group. Finally, after more bickering, the holdup convicts gave up.

Two Bomber Mishaps
Take Lives Of 11
Americans In Japan

TOKYO—(AP)—The bodies of 11 crewmen have been recovered from the wreckage of two American warplanes that crashed yesterday, the Far East Air Force announced today.

Another crew member of one of the planes is presumed dead. Nine bodies were taken from the B-29 Superfort which plunged into the ground 40 miles northeast of Tokyo in a violent rain storm last night. The Superfort was enroute to North Korea with a full load of bombs.

There were two survivors. Both were thrown clear when the plane hit. The Air Force said both were hospitalized with shock and burns, but neither was seriously injured. The Air Force also located the bodies of two crew members of a B-26 light bomber which dived into the sea off the southeast tip of Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost island.

The third crew member is believed to have perished in the crash.

Chilled Convicts Give Up In Riot At Trenton, N. J.

TRENTON, N. J. — (AP)—Twenty-three of the meanest convicts in New Jersey state prison surrendered to their keepers last night after a 45-hour display of defiance and violence.

Sullen, hungry and cold, the 23 trooped singly from a three-story segregation building they had all but gutted in a desperate bid for privileges they said were denied them.

Killers, thugs and sex offenders, the gang had been placed in the building with 22 others to keep them all from mingling with the prison's 1,300 other inmates.

Early Sunday morning, a riot broke out in the building. Somehow, yet unexplained, the men smashed cell doors, ripped out plumbing, set mattresses afire, broke up beds and demanded better treatment.

Six prisoners assigned trusty posts in the building were held captive. Prison guards lobbed tear gas grenades into the building, but they had no effect. By dawn a detachment of State Police was on hand and the show of force convinced 22 to surrender.

The others held out. They kept the trusty group prisoner. They threw plumbing equipment into an exercise yard. They fashioned weapons out of lead pipe and electric cables. They defied prison guards to come in and get them.

"They wanted us to make some promises, but we would not," said state commissioner of institutions and agencies Sanford Bates.

Cleanup Man Morris Tangles With Boss; One May Be Ousted

By JACK ADAMS

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Corruption hunter Newbold Morris apparently faced a new rebuff today from his nominal boss, Attorney General McGrath, amid speculation that the tenuous situation would force one of them to resign.

Today is the deadline for the justice department to tell Morris the names and home addresses of its top officials receiving forms for reporting to him their out-of-government sources of income.

Quiz Forms Delivered

McGrath told the House judiciary subcommittee yesterday he has not filled out his own questionnaire and is not sure whether he will. He said he had not even distributed the forms delivered to his office to anyone else in the department.

McGrath openly questioned the propriety of the questions which Morris sent to 596 justice officials

Dope For U. S. A. Seized In Italy

ROME — (AP)—Police, aided by tips from U. S. federal agents, seized more than half a million dollars worth of U. S.-bound drugs and arrested at least seven persons in raids stretching from Milan to Sicily.

The new cleanup of Italian elements in the ring started 10 days ago at Alcanio, Sicily, where police seized large quantities of heroin hidden in a false-bottomed trunk. They said they arrested Frank Mancuso, whom they identified as having been deported from the United States.

Officers said they later raided the residence near Rome of Frank Coppola and found another large quantity of heroin. Coppola, also identified as having been deported from the United States, escaped and is being hunted by police throughout Italy.

One newspaper report said Italian and American authorities believe the ring here supplied dope to peddlers in New York, Detroit, Kansas City, New Orleans and other American cities.

New Narcotics Court Set Up In New York

NEW YORK—(AP)—A special narcotics court, believed to be the first of its kind in the country, will start handling cases of young men and women addicts on May 1.

Chief Magistrate John M. Murtagh said yesterday the narcotics court of magistrate's court will open shortly before the state's new Riverside hospital starts functioning. He said the hospital is the first in the nation specifically for adolescent narcotic users.

A new adolescent narcotics users' law becomes effective May 1 in New York State. The law provides for treatment of youths adjudged addicts.

Shoreline Flood Relief Planned

LANSING—(AP)—Warned that southeastern Michigan's shoreline may be hit by new floods next week, the state began organizing a flood relief system today.

Bert Robb, director of the State Waterways Commission, told the governor's special committee that easterly winds are predicted again for next week.

Last week east winds rolled flood-swollen Lake Erie waters into low-lying communities in Macomb and Monroe counties.

Robb said the primary danger area is from Marine City to Toledo, with other hazards around Alpena and at such Lake Michigan spots as Mona Lake, Grand Haven, Portage Lake and St. Joseph.

Under the tentative disaster plan adopted, ordered ready by Friday, local mayors will notify the State Police of flood threats. The State Police will gather factual reports and report to the State Office of Civil Defense. The police and OCD will recommend the dispatching of whatever state aid seems necessary.

State agencies were instructed to have disaster plans developed within 48 hours to deal with the evacuation of homeless, police controls, sanitation, engineering and the procurement of heavy equipment.

Sutton Convicted In $64,000 Holdup

By BOB FARRINGTON

NEW YORK—(AP)—Master criminal Willie (The Actor) Sutton was convicted today of staging a $64,000 bank holdup while he was the nation's most-sought fugitive.

An all-male jury returned guilty verdicts after more than nine hours of deliberations against Sutton and his key henchman, Thomas (Scup) Kling.

The two defendants displayed no emotion as the jury foreman droned "guilty" four times for each defendant on counts of robbery, burglary, assault, and grand larceny.

For the first time since their arrest in February, the two men were locked up in the same jail. Sutton had been kept in Queens and Kling in Manhattan because of their records as jail breakers.

Sutton, 51, and Kling, 45, were charged with holding up the Sunnyside branch of the Manufacturers Trust Company in Queens on March 9, 1950.

Sutton, for five years the nation's most sought bank robber and jail breaker, was arrested in Brooklyn last Feb. 18 after a young clothing salesman spotted him on a subway train and pointed him out to police.

The salesman, 24-year-old Arnold Schuster, was shot and killed outside his Brooklyn home on March 8.

Police are still seeking the slayer and took extraordinary security measures at the trial. They fear the killer might be a pathological hero-worshiper of Sutton.

Farmer Is Suicide

COLDWATER — (AP)—Charles Waite, 78-year-old Butler township farmer, was found dead in his home Monday, a suicide victim. Coroner Irving L. Stunsell said a .32 caliber revolver was near the body and a note was found indicating the farmer planned to take his own life. He lived alone.

Interest Tense In 3-Way Race Of Republicans

(By The Associated Press)

Something like 1,300,000 voters were trooping to the polls today in Nebraska and Wisconsin, with 48 Republican and 40 Democratic Presidential nominating votes riding on the outcome.

Despite forecasts of showers in Wisconsin, observers looked for a record one million votes. Interest spurred by a hot three-way Republican race and President Truman's bow-out on the Democratic side, was at fever pitch.

Duel For Democrats

Clear, crisp Nebraska weather was expected to draw perhaps 300,000 voters to a big, unwieldy ballot. Write-in drives by Republicans and a Kerr-Kefauver duel among Democrats were the features, plus nominations for governor, two senators and four representatives.

Contending for Wisconsin's 30 GOP presidential nominating delegates are Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio, Gov. Earl Warren of California and former Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota. Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee seemed a shoo-in for the 28 Democratic delegates—two pro-Truman slates opposing him were left stranded when the President withdrew.

Wisconsin does not count write-ins.

Standin For MacArthur

Taft forces and backers of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower grabbed stage-center in Nebraska with a hotly-contested campaign for write-in support. Only the names of Stassen and Mrs. Mary Kenny, who says she is a stand-in for Gen. Douglas MacArthur, are on the GOP ballot.

Among Nebraska Democrats, Sen. Robert Kerr of Oklahoma sought to start his bandwagon rolling with a victory over Kefauver.

Alger To Plug For Eisenhower

LANSING—(AP)—Secretary of State Fred M. Alger Jr. today endorsed General Eisenhower as the Republican party's nominee for president.

Alger, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, is the first key Republican political figure in Michigan to come out for any candidate this year.

He said that as a candidate he had hesitated to express a preference but that recent developments convinced him that he should no longer be silent and that all other candidates should state their views.

"There is only one answer to America's ills, Alger said. "And that is a sweeping Republican victory at the polls next November. For that reason the GOP ticket must be headed by the strongest possible candidate."

"I think developments in New Hampshire, Minnesota, Maine and in the many public opinion polls conducted throughout the country prove that candidate to be Dwight D. Eisenhower."

Otto Kurth Home Damaged By Fire

The farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kurth, Danforth, was damaged by smoke and flames at 2:45 p. m., yesterday in a fire believed to have started in the explosion of gas leaking from a kitchen stove.

Miss Louise Kurth suffered burns on the left hand when she opened the back door but was forced back by the flames.

Damage was estimated at between $2,000 and $3,000 to the interior of the home and its furnishings.

Mrs. Kurth was alone in the house, sewing in a bedroom, when the fire broke out in the kitchen. She entered the kitchen but the water supply pump had been turned off and she then ran out the front door and called for help.

Other members of the family were at the barn. The daughter, Louise, suffered the burned hand in opening the back door to the kitchen.

"I said a prayer, grabbed up a rug, and ran back into the kitchen to beat out the fire," Mrs. Kurth said. "All at once the fire in the rest of the house seemed to go out, too. I was right in the flames, but my apron wasn't scorched and my hair wasn't even singed."

When Escanaba fire department crews arrived with a pumper the fire was out except for a spot of flames on the ceiling, which they extinguished.

Woodwork and curtains were burned, the kitchen windows were broken by the heat, and the interior of the house and its furnishings were damaged by smoke.

County Demos Pick Delegates

Delta County Democrats at their convention Monday afternoon at five o'clock at the courthouse selected a slate of 24 delegates for the state Democratic convention at Grand Rapids Saturday, May 10. County Chairman Gerald Cleary presided.

The Delta County Democrats are entitled to seven votes at the state convention. Each delegate attending the convention from Delta county will be entitled to a fractional vote based upon the number of delegates in attendance.

The delegates follow: Mrs. George Olson, Escanaba; Attorney Wendell Lund, Washington; Donald Cook, Washington; Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Farrell, Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Einar Erlandsen, Escanaba; James Doran, Escanaba; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McGonagle, Gladstone; Mr. and Mrs. William Miron, Mrs. Grace Taylor, Mrs. Ann Villeneuve, Mr. and Mrs. Wheaton Strom, William Butler, Mrs. Marie Schroeder, Mrs. Esther Meier, Attorney Nicholas Chapekis, Rober Pryal, all of Escanaba; Adam Sinclair and Andrew J. Robare, Gladstone; Betty Murray, Lansing.

The delegates adopted only one resolution, recommending to the state convention that the Benjamin Levinson, of Detroit, be selected as a delegate at large to the national convention in Chicago July 21. Mr. Levinson is president of the Michigan Mortgage Corporation, Detroit.

The resolution, adopted unanimously, declared that Mr. Levinson has worked "incessantly for the best interests of the Democratic party" and declared that he would be an ideal representative at the national convention.

The plant, to be built by the Ford Motor Co. for the Navy, will turn out the J-40 engine which can develop power equivalent to that which drives the baby plane carrier.

Admiral Old said the Navy now has 18 billion dollars in ships, 14 billion dollars in shipyards and land bases, and eight billion dollars in planes and other equipment.

Old said that "this investment is paying off all around the world." He pointed out that Navy has "a fleet in every ocean" keeping the seas open to commerce and guarding America at the same time.

The new Romulus plant will be constructed on a 160-acre site only a few miles from its Lincoln-Mercury parts supplier factory. Its main factory will have 400,000 square feet of floor space.

Ultimately, 1,500 to 1,800 persons will be employed, according to the plans.

Juice For Korea

ANDERSON, Ind.—(AP)—The Indiana Woman's Christian Temperance Union has ordered 27,360 cans of fruit juice to be sent to service men in Korea. Mrs. Herman Stanley, state president, said each 5 1/2-ounce can will have its own opener marked "gift of the WCTU of Indiana."

Case Settled Out Of Court

After a full day's hearing in Circuit Court yesterday, a case involving a suit for ownership of an estate was settled out of court this morning.

The opposing parties, Plaintiff John Erickson Jr. and Defendant Anna Erickson, his sister, agreed to a settlement without the case being resumed in court session.

Agrees To Sell
In the settlement, the defendant agreed to sell the estate in question to the plaintiff for a sum of $12,500.

The suit filed by the plaintiff claimed joint possession with the defendant of 80 acres of real estate and personal property in Brampton township on the basis of an oral agreement made with his father, John Erickson Sr. Defense was based on a deed filed by the owner a short time before his death, granting the farm and house to the defendant, his daughter, Anna-Erickson of Gladstone.

In other action yesterday afternoon, the court received the pleas of guilty in the arraignment of four criminal offenders bound over to Circuit Court.

Sentencing On Wednesday
Pleading guilty were John N. on the charge of indecent liberties; Chester W. Siko, driver while under the influence of alcohol, second offense; and John Blowers unlawfully taking driving away an automobile without intent to steal.

Sentencing of the men is scheduled for Wednesday.

The court assigned a lawyer a fourth arraignee, Edgar Nadeau, charged with unlawfully taking and driving away an automobile without intent to steal.

Hearing of chancery cases was expected by Circuit Judge Glenn W. Jackson to take up part of this afternoon's session.

Rotarians Hear Dr. Max Allen

Dr. Max Allen, Marquette, director of instruction and education service, Northern Michigan College of Education, yesterday discussed America's foreign policy in a talk to the Escanaba Rotary Club at the Delta hotel.

Comparing foreign policy in the light of realism and idealism, Dr. Allen quoted liberally from a recent book by Hans J. Morgenthau, author of "In Defense of the National Interest; and a Critical Examination of American Foreign Policy."

Morgenthau's espousal of the realistic approach to foreign policy was tempered in his summary by conclusions that not only political necessity but "moral duty" must be followed by a nation in its dealings with other nations.

Forget the Reforms

Dr. Allen pointed out that Morgenthau considered it fortunate that the United States, in its early days, had the services of able diplomats, represented by such a man as Benjamin Franklin.

Realism, as opposed to idealism in foreign policy, was advocated by Morgenthau with admonitions to Americans to "forget that foreign policy is a struggle between virtue and vice"; and that America is a reforming crusader intent on making other nations over into our pattern.

Dr. Allen questioned some of Morgenthau's conclusions, and said he doubted whether being realistic is the answer to the problems confronting America's foreign policy.

For Atlantic Union

Hitler and Mussolini were realistic, yet their realistic foreign policies resulted only in failure, he pointed out. "From any viewpoint there is a better feeling to have struggled and failed if the goal is idealistic," Dr. Allen said.

As a member of the national board of directors for Atlantic Union, the speaker briefly discussed Atlantic Union—the proposed community of nations bordering the Atlantic ocean.

Dr. Allen cited the advantages to the United States in being party to the North Atlantic treaty; said that he believes the U. S. State Department should interest itself in calling an Atlantic Union convention; and concluded with the opinion that Atlantic Union is a step toward world organization for international peace.

He was introduced by Charles Folio, Rotary program chairman.

Insurance Workshop Program Under Way By Michigan State

A series of one-day property and casualty insurance workshops in the upper peninsula is planned by the Michigan State College Continuing Education Service.

Carl Strong, college insurance coordinator, said that the workshops open in Escanaba today, April 1 and move clockwise around the U. P., closing in Sault Ste. Marie, April 9.

Strong will instruct property and casualty insurance men and agency staff members with the help of insurance specialists drawn from both Wisconsin and Michigan.

Strong's schedule will take him to Escanaba, April 1; Iron Mountain, April 3; Ironwood, April 4; Houghton, April 7; Marquette, April 8 and Sault Ste. Marie, April 9.

Sponsors of the programs are the Michigan and the Upper Peninsula Associations of Insurance Agents in cooperation with the college and local insurance associations.

Truck Load Limits In Effect On All Delta County Roads

Spring weight restrictions are now in effect on all Delta county roads, William J. Karas, Road Commission superintendent-engineer, announced yesterday.

The load limit primarily affects truckers and heavy equipment operators.

Purpose of the weight restriction is to limit loadings and thus avoid damage to county roads, whose surface and base are weakened by the thawing of the ground.

ARTHRITIS RELIEVED IN 9 DAYS THANKS TO O-JIB-WA

In 25 years of suffering, I never found a thing that would help me, until I tried O-JIB-WA BITTERS, says Mr. Harvey J. Bailey, 16751 Oakfield, Detroit.

"I have suffered on and off for 25 years with rheumatism and arthritis in my shoulders, arms and right knee. The pain and stiffness was much greater in the winter, and although I was never really laid up in bed, it was extremely hard to use my arms and the pain would keep me awake nights. Although I tried many medicines and treatments, nothing seemed to do me any real good, until I tried O-JIB-WA BITTERS. A friend told me about your medicine, and I also saw it advertised locally and recommended very highly, so I purchased a bottle, and now, I can testify that your medicine really does help. Nine days from the day I started to take it, I was greatly relieved, and it seemed no time at all until all my pains and stiffness had left me. O-JIB-WA BITTERS really did me a lot of good. It not only helped my rheumatism and arthritis, but I now sleep real good and can eat anything without gas and indigestion. In 25 years of suffering, I never found anything that would help me like O-JIB-WA BITTERS. Available at all leading drug stores in Michigan."

Ed Cox defends Escanaba's Industrial Development Program. "CITY OWNED PROPERTY IS THE BACKBONE OF THE INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM," Ed Cox, candidate for election to the Escanaba City Council, recently stated. "Practically every new industry brought to Escanaba during the past ten years has been located on city owned land. Those advocating that the city get out of the real estate business are either not familiar with the facts or else they are opposing the Industrial Development Program which has brought so many important new payrolls to Escanaba". He continued, "More iron ore will be coming this way from the Marquette and the Gogebic Iron Ranges right along. The City of Escanaba has plenty of land for the location of more ore shipping facilities whenever they may be needed. The City has already realized enough income from the ore dock property to pay practically all of the original cost of this area. In my opinion, the purchase of the Ore Dock property may well turn out to be the best investment that the City of Escanaba has ever made".

Truman Withdrawal Leaves Demos Without A Candidate

PRESIDENT TRUMAN has removed himself definitely and unequivocally from the 1952 presidential race. The President has stated in language that cannot be misinterpreted that he will not be a candidate for reelection. Further, he declared he would not accept renomination—a statement that removes the possibility that he may consider a draft movement.

It is well that Mr. Truman has made this decision. He has served seven years as President of the United States. A constitutional amendment recently enacted makes it impossible for any other man to serve more than eight years as President. While the amendment does not apply to Mr. Truman, it is well that he has seen fit to include himself in the restriction.

We do not believe that Mr. Truman could win reelection if he so desired. Even though Mr. Truman fooled the experts in 1948 and won that election when all the pre-election polls indicated that he would not defeat Gov. Dewey, many things have happened since then to adversely affect the President's popularity. The worst of these are the political scandals of 1951 and 1952.

It is probably true that Mr. Truman is wise has not helped the Democratic could advance for the 1952 election. However, the tide of public opinion has swung away from Democratic rule and a Republican victory in November is virtually a certainty. Mr. Truman's own silence on the political situation these past months likewise have not helped the Democratic chances for victory.

Apparently President Truman desired and probably still does desire to name his candidate for the Democratic nomination. That man, according to the close friends of Mr. Truman, is Governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois. Governor Stevenson has stated that he does not want to be a presidential candidate, although his viewpoint may change now that Mr. Truman has removed himself completely from the race.

The strongest candidate for the Democratic nomination probably is Senator Kefauver who defeated Mr. Truman in the New Hampshire primary, but Kefauver will get plenty of opposition in the convention from Truman delegates.

As matters now stand, the Democrats lack a candidate with any great potential for victory next fall.

Wilson Resigns As Mobilization Director

THE deep seriousness of the Wage Stabilization Board's recommendations for sharp wage increases in the steel industry is well evidenced by the resignation of Charles E. Wilson as mobilization director.

In his letter of resignation Wilson made it clear that the WSB's recommendations for a large increase for steel workers and the government's insistence upon holding a tight line on steel prices are inconsistent. As a result a steel strike is in the making and appears inevitable.

Wilson also laid out the President's doorstep a cause for much of the confusion. He revealed that the President has provided assurance that at least part of the cost of the WSB wage boost would be offset by an increase in steel prices but that Mr. Truman later changed his mind.

The President now says that no increase in steel prices is necessary in view of high profit levels in the steel industry. The steel companies contend that the cost of the WSB recommendations will require an increase in steel prices of as much as $12 a ton. The real truth probably lies somewhere in between these two extremes.

Questions and Answers

Q—What is the present average life span of white women in the United States?

A—It is now 71.5 years, which is over five years more than life expectancy of men.

Q—What is outstanding about the telephone exchange in the Pentagon?

A—It is the largest of its kind in the world and contains approximately 75,000 miles of trunk lines.

Q—What candle has become a standard unit of measure for artificial light?

A—One "candle" power refers to the amount of light produced from the burning of a pure spermaceti candle weighing one-sixth of a pound and burning at the rate of 120 grains per hour.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The job of White House Secretary Matt Connelly is solely to arrange presidential appointments. He has to decide who should not see the President, who should see him and for how long. His duties end there.

The President has cabinet members to decide such policy matters as foreign affairs and the question of peace or war. These have never come under the jurisdiction of a White House appointment secretary in any other period of American history.

All this was why the Joint Chiefs of Staff rubbed their eyes with amazement when Matt Connelly injected politics into the question of a truce in Korea.

Connelly's advice came in the form of a handwritten note which read: "I wish to God this thing wouldn't drag out until November in the interest of the party."

He signed the note simply "Matt" and attached it to a sheaf of secret papers sent from the White House to the Pentagon.

This is the first time anyone has pinned a frank political label on the Korean peace talks in writing—though hints of politics came when Democratic Chairman Frank McKinney indicated that if peace came in Korea, the President would not run.

Following this statement, Secretary of State Acheson phoned the President at Key West and expressed concern with McKinney's statement would give the Communists the cue to hold out for further concessions. Acheson had been talking to Secretary of Defense Lovett and said both were concerned. Acheson didn't say so, but in the State Department it was felt that the McKinney statement was almost equivalent to letting the Chinese select the next President of the United States.

This was the reason for the President's quick denial next day.

NO MORE CONCESSIONS

At about this time General Ridgway was quite upset over a truce concession suggested by Washington which eliminated Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, as a port of entry for truce negotiation teams. Pyongyang is the hubcap of the Communist operation in North Korea and Ridgway wanted it opened to neutral observers during the armistice.

Washington at first ruled otherwise, but now it looks as if Ridgway will get his way—despite Matt Connelly. For the truce negotiators have orders to make no more major concessions. The United States is standing pat.

Note—This is not the first time Connelly has interfered in major policy matters. He eched the President into okaying the all-important amalgamation of Pan American Airways and American Overseas Airways; is also credited with talking the President out of firing Attorney General McGrath.

LOW SENATE ETHICS

The precedent set in the United States Senate last week of letting two oil lobbyists help direct Senate debate on tidelands oil is going to plague that august body for many months to come.

Already educational leaders and school teachers who want the Hill amendment passed giving tidelands oil royalties to schools and colleges rather than to three states are demanding the same right of sitting on the Senate floor as was given the oil lobbyists.

Not in some one hundred and fifty years of Senate History has Washington witnessed a scene similar to that of last week when the two tidelands oil lobbyists were permitted to sit on the Senate floor and coach the debate.

The man who asked permission for the two lobbyists to sit in the Senate was Senator Spessard Holland of Florida, Democrat, who led the fight for states' rights ownership of the oil lands which jut out under the ocean adjacent to California, Texas and Louisiana.

Only a few senators were on the floor when Holland made this unusual request, and it was granted. Had more senators been present, unquestionably there would have been objection. However, during the rest of that day's debate, Walter Johnson of the National Association of Attorneys General who has been carrying the ball for the oil companies, together with John Madson, assistant attorney general of Louisiana, sat on the floor of the most distinguished legislative body in the world and coached Senator Holland.

Once before, during the Hoover administration, Senator Hiram Bingham of Connecticut, Republican, allowed a lobbyist for the Connecticut Manufacturers Association to sit in on secret Tariff Committee hearings. As a result Bingham was officially reprimanded by a vote of the entire Senate and later defeated for re-election.

Today Senate ethical standards appear to have sunk to a lower level than in 1930.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Lansing—Proposals to relieve the burden of the general property taxpayer continued to find their way to the legislative hopper while the administration advanced its plan for a vote in November on an income tax to relieve the levy on school districts.

"How's That Old Corruption Probe Comin'?"

Hair Today, Gone Tomorrow, So 'Problem Heads' Switch To Wigs

By RICHARD KLEINER

NEW YORK—(NEA)—If your new wig costs more, blame it on Adolf Hitler. Indirectly, it's all his fault.

Hitler started World War II. During the war, American GIs took American ideas with them wherever they went. They went to Europe and soon European women were wearing their hair shorter, the way the GIs liked it.

The continent, particularly the Balkans, had always been the big long hair supplier. Nowadays, there's very little of the real thing cultivated on Europe's female heads. So the long hair buyers have to go to remote villages, run contests with prizes for the best hair in each district and pay higher prices. These factors come out in wig costs here.

That's the sad story unfolded by Paul Fleischer, the fourth Fleischer generation to be in the hair goods business. To illustrate the current market value of beautiful long hair, he pulled out a carton about the size of a shirt box.

"Inside," he said, tapping it with a significant forefinger, "is about $7000 worth of hair."

He opened it, and displayed hanks of hair, all neatly grouped in lengths and sheets. There was gleaming black and pure platinum, lush-looking shades of red and auburn and titian and some snow white.

Fleischer looked almost reverent as he folded the hair carefully and stowed it back in the box.

"Hair," he said, in a hushed voice, "is nature's masterpiece, but few of us appreciate it. Compare it with a diamond—if you close your eyes and feel a diamond, what is it? Just a sharp stone. But hair! Touch it, and you can feel its beauty. It's almost flesh-like."

"But American women lease, abuse, wave, tint, dye, cut and otherwise mess up their hair. They ruin its texture."

There are some exceptions, and Fleischer's eyes sparkled as he talked about Ethel Thorsen, a television actress. He says she has the most beautiful hair in America.

In case she—or anybody else—loses it, or wants to augment it with switches, curls, falls, top knots, bangs, pony tails or chignons, Fleischer stands ready to help. He calls people with sparse or non-existent hair "problem heads."

He can give a male "problem head" a new set of hair for somewhere between $75 and $250, depending on size and type. These "toppers" are usually made to look like junior grade baldness to make them more realistic.

Fleischer says his toppers are "the most undetectable" now made, and that his "hair pieces" for women are virtually impossible to detect. That's because they're "fussier in the front," which is the hardest spot to disguise. Fleischer's best hair pieces—with each of the 110,000 to 150,000 hairs tied in separately by hand—cost from $500 up.

It takes up to two weeks to make one of these, starting with the raw hair, which first has a really permanent wave put in it. It's blended on a hackle to match exactly the hair still left on the problem head. Then it's knotted, hair by hair, on a ventilated base of silk and nylon.

Finally, stylists arrange the hair into the precise coiffure ordered.

WIGMAKER AND EXHIBITS: Paul Fleischer makes "hair pieces" like those in foreground for "problem heads," but not for Ethel Thorsen. He thinks she has most beautiful hair in U. S.

But, as Fleischer points out, the wearer-of-the-hair can change it to suit her mood.

"She can be demure Monday, soignée Tuesday, femme fatale Wednesday," says Fleischer. "She can style it herself, or send it back here to be restyled and cleaned."

One top Broadway star has three hair pieces. One is auburn, one brunette, one white. She changes them as her mood dictates. Hers isn't a "problem head"—she just doesn't have time to keep her own hair freshly styled, so she just slips on her coiffure like a hat.

Fleischer's business extends to such small items as widow's peaks, which cost about $25, and "streaks" of blonde, white or copper hair to jazz up an otherwise undistinguished head of hair.

There's no danger of any of these hirsute falsies blowing off, like they always do in the movies. Men's toppers are held fast with two-way plaster, and women's are snugly ensconced with elastic.

If you're blonde, you'll be delighted to know that blonde hair is more expensive than brunette. It's rarer.

Approach Of Spring Stirs Homing Instinct In Korea

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Each time a warm wind brings a soft, springlike day to interrupt the Korean winter, millions of refugees stir restlessly in their makeshift tent cities and the overcrowded—often ruined—homes of relatives.

Figures vary as to the number of refugees and homeless in South Korea, says the National Geographic Society. One recent estimate places the number at four million, including 433,000 from North Korea and 100,000 homeless children. Other surveys indicate a total of displaced persons as high as eight million, including a million and a half who fled from Communist territory.

The prolonged truce talks, plus hints of spring, give hope to many of the homeless that they may return to their own acres to start anew in war's wake. The fierce love of the land that caused Korean farmers to brave machine-gun fire to tend their fields, and to follow tanks through rice paddies to repair damage, is only emphasized by the miserable refugee life.

Camps in South Korea. The comparative quiet of the ground war during the truce talks has enabled the South Korean government and United Nations relief agencies to stabilize the refugee population in part. When possible, the homeless have been moved from crowded and dangerous centers near the war zone to camps scattered throughout the southern part of the peninsula and on the numerous islands off the coast.

In addition, the Korean government has made every effort to place the homeless with relatives, if there are relatives living in habitable structures in the ruined land. The refugees in private homes as well as those in camps are offered what relief is available.

Although the supply is still far from adequate, according to the Korean government, millions of blankets and pieces of clothing have been distributed, and every effort is made to see that each refugee receives his daily rice.

Work on Rehabilitation. Some of the refugees are put to rehabilitation work, rebuilding roads and railroads, constructing shelters and restoring industry. But the very situation that allows this work to go on turns the thoughts of the displaced toward home and the crops that might be raised.

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THE SPRING SONG—While the robin is usually hailed as the bright harbinger of spring, a surer sign is the arrival of uncounted thousands of migratory waterfowl.

Spending Sunday afternoon with the Earl Theriaults at their cottage on the south bay shore we saw hundreds of ducks and geese resting on the channels of open water a half-mile out. They were on their way north, some to nest within the Arctic Circle.

Crows were noisy in the woods and a blue heron winged slowly along the shore, long legs trailing ungracefully out behind.

The broken ice was slowly being churned by the undulating water. In the shallows, swimming close to the sandy bottom, small perch minnows moved from the protective shadow of one ice cake to another.

SOON THE SMELT—All nature seemed to be astir. We walked up the shore to a small creek, thinking we might see the start of the smelt run. But it was much too early. The creek was ice-locked at its mouth.

It will not be long, however, before the silvery little fish start their spawning run up most of the creeks and rivers in Delta county. Then the smelt fishermen with dip nets will be kept busy harvesting what is expected to be one of the largest smelt crops in many years.

Although the smelt are small, billions of them will be dipped to send hundreds of tons of the fish to market during the next few weeks.

HE FOUND OUT—The story is told of a traveling salesman who, on one of his trips to the Upper Peninsula, stopped at Escanaba just before the smelt run.

"When smelt start coming," he asked a friend of his in town, "pack up 25 pounds and send them to me, will you?"

His friend did as he requested. Several weeks passed and the salesman from Illinois came back to Escanaba. His friend asked him how he had liked the smelt.

"Why didn't you tell me they were that small?" asked the salesman plaintively.

"When the package came I took it down in the basement and began cleaning smelt about 7 o'clock. My wife wanted to go to the show, but I told her I'd clean the smelt first. It got to be 9 o'clock, and she called down to say there was a good show on TV—but I kept on cleaning smelt."

"Do you know what time I got through?" the salesman demanded. "Midnight!"

His friend in Escanaba, who had shipped him the smelt, asked if he hadn't enjoyed the smelt fry.

"No," replied the salesman in disgust. "I was so sick of cleaning the things I couldn't stand to eat one."

WASTE NOT — The salesman would have been still more discouraged if he had seen how quickly and neatly a smelt is cleaned by the persons work work in fish houses in the Escanaba area.

Many sports fishermen like to go smelt dipping but they have small interest in cleaning the catch. In some house holds the wife takes over this chore, sometimes the husband does it.

More often than not, if the wife refuses to look at a smelt until it is ready for the frying pan, the husband's interest in fried smelt dwindles.

He will enjoy dipping them by the bushel—but when he gets them home he calls in his friends and neighbors and gives away as many as possible. Perhaps it is the chore of cleaning smelt that causes so many smelt dippers to say:

"We like about one meal — and I give the rest away."

In any consideration of smelt dipping it might be pointed out that to the sports fishermen it is not the quantity of smelt but the recreation that is most important. Fishermen like their fun where they find it, even if it is an ice-cold stream on April midnight.

TUESDAY, APRIL 1

Tuesday, April first—April Fool's Day. Just what was the ancient source of the name "April" is still unsolved after many centuries.

The Romans, who called the month "Aprilis," thought it probably was a contraction of "aperilis" and that it came from "aperio," to open, because April is the month in which seeds and leaves begin to open. Our dictionaries accept that explanation for lack of something better, though one etymologist, going back into still more ancient languages, thinks it may have meant "second month."

"Tuesday" was "dies Mars," the day of Mars, in the Roman calendar. The Germanic people of the north, in adopting the Roman week, supposed that the day honored the god Mars, Roman god of war, rather than the planet Mars, and selected a name that would honor their own great god of war, Tyr.

Little is known of the great deeds of this god in German mythology, but Norse accounts tell of his many heroic acts, pointing him out as the bravest of all their gods. In Old English records his name was given as "Tiu" or "Tiw." The day named in his honor was "Tiwesdaeg," and in the course of time this has become our present word "Tuesday." (Perhaps this story of its origin will help to remind us that the first part of the name should rhyme with "fuse," not with "booze.")

The origin of April Fool's Day, or All Fools' Day as it is also called, is shrouded in mystery. Possibly it descended from the festival of Ceres, goddess of agriculture, celebrated by ancient Romans on April 10th, but the custom of playing practical jokes on the first day of April seems to have become general in Europe only within the past four or five centuries. The present practices of salt for sugar, April-Fool candy, imitation money, and so on, are recent. Formerly one sought to make a fool of another by sending him on a fake errand or by some similar trick.

Most politicians are dull and need some effective gags, says a writer. What a sense of humor he has!

The Doctor Says... Degenerative Condition in Joints Causes Sounds but Little Harm

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

One of the most common complaints of the later years of life is creaking and grating of the knees, sometimes associated with discomfort.

Q—Of late I have noticed a definite creak in my knees when going up and down stairs. Would this be a lack of vitamins, or a more serious thing?

Mrs. D.

A—In all probability, this is a degenerative condition in the knee joint, probably not related to vitamin lack. It is not serious except for the discomfort which it may cause, though it sometimes goes under the name of degenerative arthritis or osteoarthritis. It is harmful for a person with this sort of condition to carry too much weight. A certain amount of relief can often be maintained by wearing elastic bandages and by other measures.

Q—My two-year-old son is seriously bothered with constipation, and my sister wonders if this is because he wears overall pants with elastic which leaves a mark around his abdomen.

Mrs. F. E. G.

A—It is not wise for anyone to wear something too tight around the abdomen, but it seems doubtful that this could cause constipation in a two-year-old boy. A more likely cause is his diet, and of course habit plays a part also. This should be thoroughly discussed with your son's doctor.

Q—I have a fungus growth under my toenails which raises the nails and becomes unpleasant, although I keep them trimmed and the tops scraped off. What should be done.

H. O.

A—A fungus infection of the nails is often extremely difficult to cure. A person who has this unpleasant condition should be under the care of a skin specialist, who may want to give X-ray treatments as well as employ other measures. Most dermatologists are frank in admitting that this is one of their most difficult problems.

Q—I have had a nervous heart for many years. Could this bring on a heart attack?

Mrs. H. W.

A—It is hard to tell just what is meant by a "nervous heart." This, in itself, is not a serious heart disease, and would not be likely to bring on a heart attack or coronary thrombosis.

Q—Will a crooked bone in the nose cause trouble to breathing?

Mrs. C. R.

A—It can very well obstruct one of the nostrils so that breathing is more difficult. If the symptoms are very severe, one has to consider an operation to straighten the septum in the nose.

Q—Is it possible for a woman to go through the change of life in the twenties or early thirties because of an operation on the female organs?

Mrs. A.

A—If both ovaries are removed by operation, there will be a premature menopause.

Girl Lost In Woods Ready To Go Home At Mountain, Wis.

OCONTO FALLS, Wis.—(AP)—Three-year-old Mary Ann Church, who a week ago was found in the snowbound depths of Nicolet National Forest with her sister and their cousin dead beside her, is about ready to go back to the Arnold Church home at Mountain.

The youngsters with Mary Ann—Kathy Church and Steve Kennedy, both five—strayed from their home into the forest March 22. They were found nearly 48 hours later, the two older children dead of exposure. Mary Ann suffered frostbitten toes, hands and nose but recovered quickly and has been scampering around Oconto Falls Memorial hospital.

Bulletproof Clothing Pays Off In Korea ---

Like knights of old, Army infantrymen and Marines fighting in Korea are wearing armor and boy, are they glad to have it! Ask Marine Pfc. Ralph W. Barlow, who is pictured below. A number of units were issued the special vests and jackets and the experiment paid off in lives saved and wounds averted. The Army has announced that 1400 experimental jackets have been ordered and the Marines have awarded mass-production contracts on their shrapnel-proof vests. The new combat protection items climax more than three decades of research.

Of slightly different construction is the Marine Corps vest, worn by a mannequin above. Weighing seven and three-quarter pounds, it employs overlapping plates of plasticized glass fibers, as well as layers of nylon fabric. Both garments are said to stop a .45-caliber pistol or sub-machine-gun bullet at point-blank range, fragments from a grenade burst at three feet or a mortar burst at 10 feet (see inset). Fragmentation injuries comprise 70 per cent of all battle casualties.

Marine Pfc. Ralph W. Barlow of Redondo Beach, Calif., displays the piece of shrapnel which lodged in his armored vest while he was on patrol in Korea. The impact knocked him down, but saved him from serious injury. The new vest, developed by the Marine Corps, has been credited with saving 18 lives.

Taking a tip from the knights of old, several nations experimented with armor for soldiers at the end of World War I. Majority of the outfits, however, weighed an impractical 35 or 40 pounds. During World War II, 15-pound chest protectors, above, were issued to bulldozer operators who cleared way for advances in Germany.

Murder Baffles Muskegon Cops

MUSKEGON, Mich. — (AP) — Police working through their third day of investigation into the unsolved slaying of a 55-year-old divorcee today awaited laboratory findings in the woman's brutal death.

Officers continued to run down tips and information turned into headquarters in the killing of Lillian Kayer, antique shop dealer. But detectives said few tangible clues had been turned up.

The twice divorced business woman was beaten to death with a heavy iron bar in the basement of her shop shortly after 10 a. m., Saturday. The body was found by a customer who went to investigate after waiting for half an hour.

Reports that two shabbily dressed men had been seen in the shop about an hour before the body was found led to a search of the skid row area near which the shop is located.

Results of laboratory tests were being awaited on fingerprints and bloodstains found at the scene. Miss Kayer's murder was the second unsolved slaying in the same general vicinity.

Paul K. James, 45, who had been in a tavern three doors from the antique shop on the night of March 5, was found slain in Norton township the next day. In both deaths severe fractures of the skull occurred. It was believed James had been slain in a fight resulting from a tavern argument, but his assailant has never been found.

Gladstone Office Is Brought Into
The Hupy Insurance office in Gladstone, 906 Delta avenue, was broken into and entered last night but nothing has been reported missing.

An attempt was made to open a safe but the intruders were unsuccessful. Entrance was made by breaking the storm and inner windows with stones. The desk drawers were opened but a checkup did not reveal that anything had been taken.

Small footprints near the building and small fingerprints indicated that one or more youngsters may have been involved in the case.

Truman Won't Go Back Home Broke savings when he stepped out of the White House he probably would be faced with a rather heavy personal debt.

The big pay increase in 1949 seems to have reversed that situation. Helping, too, were the more than three years the Trumans lived at Blair House—from November, 1948, until last week—while the White House was being remodeled.

Cronies Lose Job
Expenses were much less at the temporary living quarters across Pennsylvania Avenue. Less domestic help was required and there was a big saving on entertainment.

With more pay and a reduction in expenses, the President had a chance to save for that rainy day. And those around him figure he probably did a pretty good job of it.

Truman is a frugal man with simple tastes and can be expected to live modestly when he returns to private life. There is no federal pension for ex-presidents, and Congressional officials say he isn't eligible for a pension based on the 10 years he was a Senator. The pension plan for former members of Congress went into effect after he was in the White House, and it had no retroactive feature.

Truman's decision to bow out means some of his cronies in the government will be looking for new jobs next January. For example, the President's Army aide, Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, undoubtedly will go out with his chief.

Aides To Retire
Vaughan, often on the hot spot during his seven years with the White House, is a reserve officer who probably won't remain on active duty.

In the cabinet, only Secretary of the Treasury Snyder is generally regarded as being in the category of Presidential cronies. Snyder is known to have had several offers to go back into the banking business, but he has preferred to stay on with Truman.

A new President will want to select his own cabinet, so there probably will be new men running the top departments.

As for the White House staff, most of the members reportedly are expecting to step out with Truman. They include: John R. Steelman, an assistant

Rotation Slows Down In Korea

By STAN CARTER

SEOUL, Korea.—(AP)—A slow-down in rotation went into effect today for regular U. S. Army soldiers and draftees in Korea.

It won't affect National Guardsmen. They must be discharged by August.

Under the new system men in the front line can expect to go home after 10 or 11 months. Men in artillery battalions and supporting units who live in tents near the front and are fired on occasionally can go home after 13 or 14 months.

Those at rear headquarters or an infantry division, or in Seoul or Pusan, will be kept in Korea for about 18 months.

Rotation is based on a complex point system. A man is sent home after receiving points for "36 constructive months service."

Under the new schedule a man in (1) an infantry battalion at the front gets four points a month; (2) at regimental headquarters, division forward headquarters, or in a directly supporting unit receives three points; and (3) at corps headquarters, division rear headquarters or other rear area gets two points.

Dipping Banned
BEULAH — (AP) — Fishermen looking for smelt will have to pass up Cold Creek this year. Conservation officers have placed a ban on dipping in that stream, hoping to provide better ice fishing next winter. Light smelt runs were reported in other Benzie county streams.

Coolers Arrive
CHICAGO — (AP) — Here's a cool note in the hot political situation. Two big air conditioning machines arrived in Chicago yesterday for installation in the International Amphitheatre where the two national conventions will be held in July.

Ice Below Soo Blocks Shipping

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Unexpected heavy ice in the lower St. Marys River is keeping ore ships from reaching Lake Superior.

The Coast Guard icebreaker Mackinaw was to operate in the river today between Sault Ste. Marie and Detour, Mich., where ice was reported from 20 to 30 inches thick.

Capt. D. H. Dexter of the Mackinaw said the river channels and turns must be made wider before it would be safe for big vessels to travel there. He estimated that would take at least another day. The Mackinaw nosed out into Whitefish Bay as far as Whitefish Point yesterday and found ice 15 inches thick covered by three to 10 inches of white frozen "snow ice," with comparatively few windrows.

At Duluth, the icebreaker Woodrush broke out the harbor which is believed will be ready to receive freighters by the time the bad spots near the Soo are cleared.

The Straits of Mackinac, from Calcutte, Mich., to 10 miles south of Grays Reef, is reported half covered with cake and pancake ice, but is reported navigable by daylight.

Fred Beach, Resident Of Garden, Dies At 96

Fred Beach, oldest resident of the Garden Peninsula, died at 10:30 a. m. today at the family home, following a week's serious illness. He was 96.

Mr. Beach, who celebrated his birthday anniversary only every four years, was born in Leap Year, Feb. 29, 1856, in Thorseau, Quebec, Canada. He remained there until he was 25 and then moved to Florence, Wis., where he stayed three years. He also lived in Crystal Falls two years before finally settling in Garden.

He was employed there first by Van Winkle running a lumber camp and bossing a crew on the Fishdam River and later on the boom at the Van's Harbor mill. He then went into business for himself, operating a tavern 15 years. When lumbering declined in the community he bought a farm and remained there until 1920 when he sold it and moved to Garden proper.

An ardent sportsman, he took up a homestead on the plains north of Garden in 1918 and he spent his last active years, fishing, hunting and trapping on his land.

In his later years he spent the greater part of his time reading the daily newspapers and listening to radio, and up to the time of his serious illness he maintained his keen interest in events of the day.

His first wife died Oct. 10, 1935, and in August, 1937, he married Mrs. Matilda Caron, who died a few years later.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. William Couillard of Wells, 6 grandchildren and 7 great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. Friday at St. John's Church in Garden of which he was a member. Burial will be in Garden Cemetery. Friends may call at the Alto Funeral home beginning at 8 p. m. Wednesday and the body will be taken to the family home Thursday afternoon.

Steel Walkout Seems Certain

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall said today, after conferring with U. S. Steel president Benjamin Fairless, that he fears a steel strike may hit the country April 8.

"I hope for the best, but I fear the worst," Arnall told newsmen. The 650,000 CIO Steelworkers have a strike set for a week from today and Fairless had come to see Arnall, presumably about prospects of the government allowing some price ceiling boosts to offset wage raises recommended by the Wage Stabilization Board.

Arnall gave reporters the impression that he is sticking by his guns against giving the steel industry any special price aid to encourage the industry to accept the WSB recommendations. Arnall talked with Fairless for about 2 1/2 hours in Arnall's office.

More Atomic Tests Scheduled Today On Las Vegas Flats

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — (AP) — The third atomic series at Nevada test site gets underway today—unless the weather plays an unexpected April fool trick.

It was evident the Atomic Energy Commission wasn't fooling when it authorized the Civil Aeronautics Administration to issue the following warning to pilots last night:

"Between the hours of 2 a. m. and 1 p. m. (PST) the altitudes of 12,000 and 14,000 feet between Las Vegas and Albuquerque are to be avoided by all aircraft for reasons of safety."

It was strongly indicated that the atom-busters would pick a time well after dawn to kick off the April series.

The blast will be No. 13 at the AEC's Nevada grounds. Twelve were held here last year, five at Frenchman Flat and seven at Yucca Flat. The two huge flats—really dry lakes—cover an area of 640 square miles.

Both AEC test chief Alvin C. Graves and test manager Carroll L. Tyler have implied that other explosions than an air drop or tower explosion might be used during the series.

Larche is a former resident of Escanaba.

George Chapman, Mt. Clemens is spending the week at the Rueben Paul home. Mr. Chapman is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone Anderson visited Sunday in Manistique at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Larson.

Art Tienert and Clarence Sheedlo made a business trip to Iron Mountain Saturday.

Mrs. Louis Thibault and Mrs. Henry Martin attended the leader training lesson on broiler meals in Gladstone Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mosier, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Pineau, and Ray Barney left Monday morning for Detroit, Lansing and Battle Creek. The Mosiers and Pineaus will spend the week there. Mr. Barney will be employed in Battle Creek.

Three New Measures Signed By Governor

LANSING — (AP) — Governor Williams signed three more legislative acts last night.

One allows any city which is a member of a garbage disposal authority to locate an incinerator within its boundaries without obtaining a permit for it.

Another makes it discretionary, rather than mandatory, for probate judges to meet in annual convention and repeals the law requiring the counties to pay the convention expenses of probate judges.

The third authorizes the presiding circuit judge to designate a circuit judge to sit in the Grand Rapids Superior Court to expedite its business or in case of the absence or incapacity of the Superior Judge. It also allows $1,500 to be spent annually for a Superior Court library.

Interest Tense In Wisconsin And Nebraska Voting

Kerr became a full-fledged candidate when Truman stepped aside.

The big splash of the President's decision not to accept renomination was still rippling throughout the Democratic party.

In Washington it started a boom for vice president Alben Barkley. Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, reportedly Truman's favorite, went home from Washington amid a hubbub over his chances. Stevenson insists he is running only for the Illinois governorship but has declined to say he would reject Presidential nomination.

Taft Needs Victory
In two weeks, he travelled some 2,300 miles, visiting every major city and most of the crossroads points, averaging six and seven speeches a day, touring factories, holding news conferences and meeting people.

Some of the best political brains in the state helped map his campaign and advised him on every step along the way. One of them told this reporter, months ago, "Wisconsin is the big one for us. This is the one we're concentrating on."

Taft was defeated in New Hampshire by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Not long afterward, Eisenhower received an unprecedented 106,000 votes, all of them written in on the ballot, in Minnesota.

Consequently, observers feel that Taft needs a smashing victory in Wisconsin to offset these earlier developments. He has made every effort to achieve it.

Electric boat started on a block of 3,000 shares up 3/4 to 39 1/4 and later it moved ahead for a point gain. The company reported earnings last year equal to $4.53 a share as compared with $1.52 the previous year, and the president of the company forecast new record high sales this year.

Canadian Pacific opened on a block of 5,000 shares up 1/4 at 40 1/2 and then lost ground.

The market yesterday was a bit higher. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks reached a new high of $103.50, the third in a row.

A Boy At Calvary

In the eyes of Sakron and his friends, adventure began and ended with Barabbas. His was the prize role when they played 'Rebels and Romans,' their favorite game, with wooden swords and shields.

Always the swarthy robber chieftain triumphed. His sword and his horse were the swiftest. Seizing arms and silver from the hapless Romans, Barabbas would thunder across the desert to the secret caves of his army.

By Jay Heavilin and Walt Scott

But one spring day Sakron sat disconsolately at the village gates, his eyes turned toward Jerusalem. He had learned of Barabbas' imprisonment in the Judean capital. Would it be possible to see his hero?

What In The World?

ATHENS, Greece—It's only a short trip by air from communist Belgrade, Yugoslavia, to Athens, but it's like emerging from darkness to daylight. When we stepped down out of our plane here at the Athens airport after less than three hours in the air, everyone was quick to sense the difference. You could move around the airport without feeling as though someone was watching you. The air felt cleaner. And to touch it all off, a beautiful, bright, warm sun was shining. We met spring at Athens.

On the way from the airport to the city, a distance of some 20 miles or so, evidences of the free world began to mount. First, there was a road sign advertising Dodge automobiles. It was like meeting an old friend again. Then other names of familiar American products seemed to be welcoming us back to freedom as our bus moved along the winding road into town. As a sort of backdrop to these reminders of modern living, we soon came face to face with the remains of an ancient civilization when, as our bus rounded a turn near a hill the famous Parthenon with its hundreds of giant columns. Yes, there it was, just as we had seen it pictured a thousand times. And we were suddenly reminded that the first democracy known to man was born in Greece.

ATHENS IS TRULY a beautiful city. It is the capital of the nation that cradled civilization and inspired the art of centuries. It is the birthplace of the Gods.

On our second day in Athens, we took a trip around the city to see first hand some of the famous old ruins about which we had studied as youngsters in school. We climbed the steep hill to the Acropolis, which seemed a hundred times bigger than we had ever imagined. We visited the Temple of Zeus, and lingered a while to study closeup a giant column which had fallen to the ground so long ago no one could tell us just when. We marveled at the workmanship in those great pieces of marble. The columns were made of individual pieces of stone about three feet thick and four feet in diameter.

The unrivaled magnificence of the old ruins provides an ageless backdrop for the drama of classic civilization.

MOST OF US ON THIS TRIP are from grass roots cities and towns all over the United States. Until we started out on this journey few of us had ever seen the head of a nation close up. Yet by now we are beginning to become accustomed to palace pomp. We we had met on the entire trip to date.

KING PAUL, THOUGH in full uniform, greeted each member of our party with a hearty handshake and talked briefly with each of us about the particular part of the United States he came from. His remarks about the various localities indicated he was very well informed about our country.

But it was the queen who really put everyone at ease. Following the introduction, she said in perfect English, "My husband and I are always glad to have Americans come to see us, because we can relax and just be ourselves."

Some of us talked with King Paul for some time about his military service during World War II. He saw considerable action in Africa with Allied forces against the army of Marshal Rommel, Germany's desert fox. He told us how, at one place in Africa, when the allies first retreated before the Rommel offensive, his unit was one of the last to move and was charged with the responsibility of burning all reports and directives. He said the huge pile of papers was burned on a Wednesday and the day was entered in his diary as "Ash Wednesday."

King Paul looks very much like a successful American business man. He is tall, fiftyish, well built and his thinning hair is gray around his temples. He wears large, horn-rimmed glasses above an infectious, boyish smile.

Knowing that Prince Philip, husband of England's new Queen Elizabeth, was originally from Greece, I asked King Paul what relationship existed between the two. He told me that Philip's mother and his own were sisters.

The present king of Greece came to the throne unexpectedly. He had two older brothers, both of whom died. "You see, I never expected to get this job," he said, "and I'm just becoming accustomed to it."

QUEEN FRADERICA appears to be somewhat younger than the king. My guess is that she is in her middle thirties. She is extremely attractive and appears to get a kick out of talking to Americans. At first I thought she had what American women call a poodle hairdo, but one of the ladies in our party said no, that she merely wore her hair short and that it was extremely curly.

Greek Parade Delays Synagogue Wedding Of Two Met Opera Stars

NEW YORK — (AP) — Metropolitan opera stars Robert Merrill and Roberta Peters were married here Sunday — after the bridegroom showed up half an hour late.

Merrill was delayed by a Greek Independence Day parade crowd and most of the 1,000 guests were already at the Park Avenue Synagogue when he arrived.

So were some 1,500 other persons who crowded about the entrance to watch numerous guests of the opera world arrive.

Merrill pushed through the crowd, almost losing his top hat. But, otherwise, everything went off as planned.

Much of the ceremony, appropriately enough, was musical. And Rabbi David Puttermann and the Synagogue chorus sang, unabashed by the presence of members of the Metropolitan Opera staff and company.

Merrill is 34, Miss Peters 21. The giving of a ring to mark betrothal was a Roman custom.

BALANCING A BUDGET comes naturally to Frank Wrenick of Evanston, Illinois, shown here with his wife, Sarah. Frank is an accountant in the General Office of the Standard Oil Company. So that, in addition to helping keep track of the family finances, Frank helps keep good track of Standard Oil's finances. And here is how he explains what happened to the money we took in during 1951.

"Where does the money go?"

"Ever try to explain to your wife what happened to all the money you've earned in a year's time? Well, pleasant or not, reviewing expenditures is something every family has to contend with. And every business, too. I know. I'm in the accounting department of Standard Oil, and I've put in many an hour on the annual profit and loss statement for Standard Oil and its subsidiary companies. I've found that the problems of company finances are a lot like personal financial problems.

"Like you, we took in a certain amount of money during 1951. In our case, $1,764,930,319 to be exact. And here's what happened to it...

"Over half, or 58%, represented the cost of things we had to buy such as crude oil, materials, and services, plus charges made for wear and tear. A great deal of the money we spent went eventually into the payrolls of the thousands of companies who supply us—and so helped maintain many other businesses in thousands of communities.

"Our next biggest item at Standard—even bigger than our payroll—was for taxes. In fact, 19.1% of what we took in was paid out in taxes, including our own taxes and those we collect from our customers for national, state and local governments. And that figure does not include the many 'hidden' taxes which both you and we pay!

"Wages, salaries and benefits for our 49,700 employees accounted for 14.5% of what the company took in.

"At this point, all costs of doing business have been taken care of. And here's what happened to the remaining 8.4% of the money...

"We used 5.9% to improve our service to our customers, through investment in oil wells, refineries, service stations, etc.

"The balance, or 2.5%, was paid in dividends to Standard Oil's 116,800 stockholder-owners, including over 24,000 of us who are employees.

"Everything considered, it was a good year. That's where all the money went and we feel sure you'll agree it was used to serve you well."

Standard Oil Company

MONEY WELL SPENT assures good wages and steady work for our 49,700 employees—one of whom is Preston Chalk of our Wood River, Illinois, refinery. In recent years, two-thirds of our profits have been plowed back into the business, so that today each Standard Oil employee is backed by an average investment of $31,400 in tools and equipment, which helps him to produce more, earn more and have steadier work.

MONEY WELL SPENT assures a fair return on the investment of S. Dexter Hastings of Green Bay, Wisconsin—one of our 116,800 stockholder-owners. Last year our stockholders received dividends equal to 2.5% of what we took in. No one individual owns so much as 1% of our stock. No one of the institutional owners, including many educational and charitable organizations, owns so much as 4% of our stock.

MONEY WELL SPENT assures more progress in helping dealers like Ralph Nolan keep customers like Raymond Morris rolling. The many thousands of independent businessmen who are Standard Oil dealers offer you quality petroleum products at reasonable prices. Gasoline, for example, now sells at approximately 1925 prices; (only the tax is higher). Yet, two gallons today do the work that then took three.

John Knight Concert Final Number Of Season

John Knight, Canadian born pianist, presented the final concert of the Delta County Community Concert Association's 1951-52 season last evening at William W. Oliver Memorial Auditorium.

The young artist, who displayed a finished technique was at his best in the lyrical beauty of the Chopin compositions which formed one of his groups.

His program selections also included Bach and Scarlatti, Beethoven's Sonata in F minor, and in the final group Prokofiev, Rachmaninoff, a Liszt Hungarian Rhapsody and the familiar "Bach Goes to Town" which concert goers first heard some years back when Alec Templeton introduced his fun-provoking composition here.

The successful concert season opened with the incomparable de Paur Infantry Chorus. It also included a brilliant performance by Dorothea Powers, violinist.

During the intermission a brief talk on the concert season and announcement of coming musical events of local interests was made by Robert S. Meyer of the Escanaba High School faculty. These include the Escanaba High School Festival concert this evening, Orpheus Chorus annual spring concert, the U. P. Music Festival and the Navy Band.

ENGAGED—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cass, 516 S. 12th St., announce the engagement of their daughter, Coleta Marie, to Eugene Jezierny of Chicago. Miss Cass is a graduate of St. Anthony's School of Nursing in Rockford, Ill. Mr. Jezierny was graduated from the Holy Trinity high school of Chicago and is now in business with his father. The wedding will take place May 31 in St. Patrick's Church of Escanaba.

Mary Margaret's mother is the former Joan Flanagan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Flanagan, and her father is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Juel Lee. She is the first granddaughter in both families. Mr. and Mrs. Lee and Gloria Lee of New York City are in El Paso with the family at present.

Today's Recipes

Savory Cheese Souffle
Ingredients: 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, 4 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, dash of cayenne pepper, 1 1/2 cups milk, 1/2 pound medium-sharp cheddar cheese (grated), 6 eggs (separated).

Method: In saucepan melt butter over low heat; add flour, salt, mustard, paprika, Worcestershire, and cayenne and stir to blend well. Remove from heat; add milk gradually, stirring until smooth after each addition. Return to moderately low heat and cook and stir constantly until thickened. Reduce heat to low, add cheese and stir vigorously until melted. Remove from heat and set aside. With rotary beater, beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; without washing beater beat yolks for a minute or two. With spoon, beat yolks well into cheese mixture. Slowly pour cheese mixture onto beaten whites, folding in as you do so. Turn into greased 2-quart casserole. With a teaspoon draw a line around the mixture, 1 inch from edge of casserole, so a slight track is left. Bake in slow (300F.) oven 1 1/4 hours. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

AS WE LIVE

Sometimes Your Doctor Can Say What You Can't.

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, Ph. D.

It is a well known fact that people will take suggestions and advice more readily from outsiders than from members of their own family. That is why, when some problem arises that needs help in solution, the best thing to do is to turn to an outsider for help. The following case is a good example:

(Q) "I am a nurse. My only son is married to a girl who likes to sleep late in the morning. They have a three-month baby. My daughter-in-law sleeps until noon, never giving the baby a breakfast. Of course she cannot get three meals into the baby between noon and 6:30 at night when he is put to bed again. He gets outdoors only twice a week, on shopping days. I have tried to explain why the baby should get more food and fresh air but my son and his wife won't accept any advice. Her mother has tried, too, but gets the same answer, 'don't interfere.' I feel desperate. I work with mothers and children all the time but I am not able to help my own grandson."—Mrs. D. M.

(A) So long as your son and daughter-in-law feel as they do about your advice, your only hope of helping your grandson is indirectly, through the baby's doctor. Go to him and tell him, in your professional capacity as a nurse, what kind of treatment the child is receiving.

Then, if your daughter-in-law doesn't bother to take the baby to the doctor for periodic check-ups (she probably doesn't if she is so careless about the baby's routine) make an excuse for taking the matter into your own hand and call the doctor yourself. The cost of his visit will be worth the results you get.

If a baby is not given the right kind or the right amount of food, and if he is deprived of fresh air and sunlight, these defects in his care will quickly show up in his growth and in his general health condition. That is why you need the backing of the doctor to impress upon the baby's parents the seriousness of their neglect.

In time, your grandson will protest against his neglect and will force his mother to give him more care. I am surprised that his protests have not already started. It seems remarkable to me that a three month old baby would sleep or be quiet from early evening to noon the following day. This fact would suggest that his physical condition is so poor that he hasn't the strength to protest and should, therefore, have medical attention.

Dr. Hurlock will help you with family problems. Write her in care of this newspaper.

For a Delicious Treat—Try This

By MARY MANNING

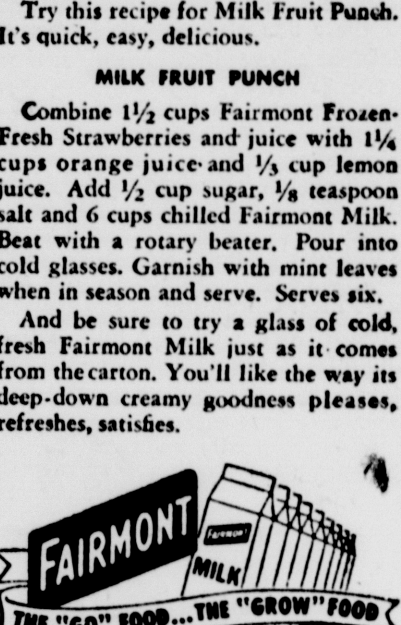

Here is milk that is really delicious and refreshing. I'm speaking of wonderful, wonderful FAIRMONT MILK. It's the "GROW" Food and it's the "GO" Food. That's why grown-ups and teenagers are urged to drink it every day. For no matter how old we may be we never outgrow our need for milk.

And there are so many exciting ways to serve milk we should never be at a loss to find some way that will appeal to every member of the family.

Try this recipe for Milk Fruit Punch. It's quick, easy, delicious.

MILK FRUIT PUNCH
Combine 1 1/2 cups Fairmont Frozen-Fresh Strawberries and juice with 1/4 cups orange juice and 1/4 cup lemon juice. Add 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 6 cups chilled Fairmont Milk. Beat with a rotary beater. Pour into cold glasses. Garnish with mint leaves when in season and serve. Serves six.

And be sure to try a glass of cold, fresh Fairmont Milk just as it comes from the carton. You'll like the way its deep-down creamy goodness pleases, refreshes, satisfies.

Booze Is Magic Topic In Papers

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—We have been seeing so much lofty stuff about alcoholism and alcoholics lately that a fellow fears to creep into Joe's for a slight cup of courage, lest he become the topic of an illustrated lecture and wind up with his head in a laboratory bottle. Booze has always been a magic topic in the paper trade, and every time somebody finds a new way to second-guess it they reap a rash of headlines.

That we have people who cannot use it and do the daily chores is known. Some people can't handle it physically. Two belts and—wham! It works curiously on the brains of others. Two taps and they come down with delusions of being a composite John L. Sullivan and Johnny Barrymore. They roar like hungry hippies and tweak every garter within grasp.

There are some who knock the head off a glass of beer, and then suddenly decide to drink it all, everywhere, that very night. There are still some more who have to keep nibbling at it in small bites to maintain what they fondly believe is par. In short, there are some that should. A considerably smaller percentage shouldn't as there are people who rosy-out when they eat strawberries or sprout pimples from penicillin.

Too Much Second-Guessing
I cannot believe that the business of boozing can be so intricately tangled with the dark threads of secret personality that it is worth all the time and space devoted to second-guessing it. But alcoholism has lately become the most popular subject of the pseudo-scientific forum since the professional second-guessers flunked out on child care and the basic causes of divorce.

Just recently I have seen a serious statement that children who are (1) Overpampered and (2) Neglected are both candidates for skid row and a tin of canned heat, neat. That would seem to cover about 180,000,000 people in this country alone, because you seldom see offspring who were not either over or under-indulged by somebody.

I see another one out of some doc that the fellow who helps the hostess is not basically polite, but is sneaking those quickies in the kitchen, and is, therefore, alcoholic. Another one says that although the fellow at the next desk may be clean, neat, industrious and kind to cats and kiddies, he may be an alcoholic without knowing it.

This poses the interesting possibility that politeness to others is construable as built-in vice, and that no man is ever safe from the beast that lurks within him. He may go through life as dry as all the oil wells I ever met socially, but the bum is still an alcoholic and should maybe be oughta be ashamed of himself.

Maybe He Likes It
It would seem to a nontechnical admirer of grape-and-grain that the proof of alcoholism is in the man by his actions, and that there is very little to be done about his ultimate course. He either realizes that he is slipping off the roof and quits the stuff, as in the case of successful Alcoholics Anonymous alumni, or he winds up a-straddle of the gutter. The thing that makes him drink may well be rooted in his murky past—some real or fancied childhood slight, some heavy and basic frustration of his earlier adult days. But it also may be that maybe the guy just likes to get loaded.

And I seem to see the familiar pattern of the glib psychologic huckster in the increasing emphasis on alcoholism, with all the words like "habitual symptomatic drinkers" and "block" and "trauma" and "transference" and the like. I also see a fine infusion of slick prohibition propaganda from the ver-busy dries, whose latest leap on liquor is to link it with narcotics addiction as one-half of a two-headed horror.

If a man believes all he hears and reads about alcoholism today, the fact that he might want a sort of booze after a hard day at the office is enough to set him wondering whether or not he's potentially nuts and headed for the ash bin or worse. He is loosing fleas in people's heads again, and it is easy to suspect a motive not altogether concerned with national health. Best definition of the alcoholic I have yet encountered is that he's a man who takes as many drinks as you do, but you don't like him.

Virginia had its own "tea party" in 1774. A consignment of tea was taken from a storehouse and patriotically dumped in the York River.

Don't Faint Away If Someone Should Say:

"But madam, I insist I can make room for you! Here let me help you with your packages!"

"To tell ya the truth, boss, my arm never felt worse. But I won't win a game all season."

"Sure it's a lot of cash to pay for a lousy set like this. But I'm in business to make money."

Daily Cargo Leaves Inland

Shipment of a cargo of blast furnace flux stone daily highlighted the first week of the 1952 navigation season at Port Inland, it is reported by A. W. Heitman, general superintendent of the Inland Lime and Stone Company.

The sixth boat load of stone left the harbor Sunday.

Two more boats, the E. J. Block and the Hobson, were expected at Port Inland today. The E. J. Block will take on its third cargo of blast furnace stone for the Inland Steel Company at Indiana Harbor, and the Hobson will be loaded with flux for the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company at South Chicago.

First two boats to arrive at Port Inland were the E. J. Block and the Joseph Block which maneuvered with some difficulty through a broken ice field to the docks March 25. The E. J. Block was loaded and left that night for Indiana Harbor, and the Joseph Block left the next day for the same destination.

Both the E. J. Block and Joseph Block made a return trip last week, loading and leaving again on Saturday and Sunday, respectively.

Other early boats were the Schwab which took a cargo to the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company and the Verona which took a load to the Bethlehem Steel Company at Buffalo.

First new stone from the inland quarry, located about seven miles north and east of the plant, arrived last Thursday. Initial shipments included flux stone stockpiled last fall but cargoes this week will comprise new crushings from the quarry.

Treating Of Mentally Ill Is Described By Newberry Psychiatrist

Methods of treating the mentally ill from the days of ancient Greece to modern times were described to members of the Manistique Rotary Club Monday noon by Dr. T. W. Thompson, psychiatrist at the Newberry state hospital.

Dr. Thompson said early records revealed that in ancient Greece and Rome the mentally ill were treated by the use of baths and music.

During the Dark Ages an entirely different point of view in regard to the mentally sick was taken, and they were generally segregated in dungeons, he said. In England at one time, he stated, tickets were sold to people to permit them to view the antics of the insane.

Modern methods of treating the mentally sick developed about 1800 when a more humane approach arose, the speaker said. Throughout Europe various institutions were built to care for the insane, and about 1850 the institution plan emerged in the United States and has grown steadily since.

Many early restraints used in treating the mentally ill were gradually abandoned as modern methods evolved, he said, and segregation of patients from each other is now used only in extreme cases.

Moreover, he pointed out, some of the methods used by the Greeks and Romans have been revived, including music and baths. Games and dances also have been added to give patients a more normal method of life.

The speaker discussed the effectiveness of modern shock treatments, including the use of insulin and electro shocks.

Dr. Thompson said that at the present time the Newberry hospital has approximately 1,500 adult patients and 225 children. A total of 470 persons are on the hospital payroll.

About half of the buildings at the Newberry institutions are in good condition, he said. Other buildings need modernizing and some repair.

Dr. Thompson said that at the present time the Newberry hospital has approximately 1,500 adult patients and 225 children. A total of 470 persons are on the hospital payroll.

About half of the buildings at the Newberry institutions are in good condition, he said. Other buildings need modernizing and some repair.

4-H Program To Open Tomorrow

The annual Schoolcraft County 4-H Club Achievement program will be held in Manistique tomorrow and Thursday, with approximately 300 club members participating.

Exhibits will be arranged at the Lincoln gym tomorrow morning and will be judged in the afternoon. In the evening an open house for general public inspection will be held.

Club members will view the exhibits Thursday morning and will attend a program at the Oak theater in the afternoon featuring a style revue, musical numbers and announcement of county and Camp Shaw honor members.

Anthony Given 30 Days For Driving While Intoxicated

William Anthony, of Newberry, was given a 30-day jail sentence following his plea of guilty in local justice court yesterday to a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants.

Anthony was unable to pay a fine of $50 and costs of $3.75. The Newberry man was arrested March 30 by state police on US-2 in Doyle township.

Name Watson To OPS Committee

The Office of Price Stabilization has announced the appointment of Russell Watson, 315 Range St., as a member of the Lakes States Pulpwood Producers Industry Advisory Committee.

The function of the committee, it is announced, is to advise the OPS on pulpwood price ceilings and other matters pertaining to production and sale of pulpwood in the lake states of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

The first meeting of the committee is scheduled for April 9 in Washington, D. C.

Watson has been a commercial forester and woods operator in Schoolcraft county and surrounding areas for the past 25 years.

The British Commonwealth is sponsoring a six-year plan for the development of South and Southeast Asia. Known as the Colombo Plan, it is expected to benefit 570 million people at an estimated cost of more than $5 billion.

Signed: Mrs. Ben Dixon

Obituary

ALBERT H. NELSON
Funeral services for Albert H. Nelson, 87, who died March 28 at the Wendland Convalescent Home, were held Monday from the Messier-Broulliere Funeral Home with Rev. Paul Sobel, of the Presbyterian Church, officiating. The body was placed in Lakeview vault and will be buried in the Spring in the family lot at Fairview cemetery.

Mrs. Scott Creighton was organist for the service. Pallbearers were Charles Faulkner, William Boonenberg, Milo Gonsler, Ray McDowell, Ernest Tovey and Arthur Goupel.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to extend my heartfelt thanks for the kindness and sympathy rendered me at the time of my recent bereavement, the death of my beloved husband, Ben Dixon. I am especially grateful to those who sent spiritual or floral bouquets or other expressions of sympathy. The memory of these acts will ever remain with me.

Signed: Mrs. Ben Dixon

Giants Have Good Chance To Repeat As NL Champs

PHOENIX, Ariz.—(AP)—Barring bad luck, the New York Giants may well score a repeat victory in the National league. . . without slicing it so thin this year with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Manager Leo Durocher is not disposed to junk his policy of making no out-right preseason predictions, but the new Leo does feel that the club is potentially stronger than last season.

Kolloway, Taylor To Alternate At First For Tigers

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(AP)—Manager Red Rolfe gave at least a temporary answer yesterday to the Detroit Tigers' big problem this spring—first base.

Don Kolloway was at first for the first time this season yesterday and Rolfe explained he intended to start the veteran right-hander against southpaw pitchers and use Ben Taylor against right-handers. Taylor was acquired from the St. Louis Browns.

Vic Wertz was back in right field after a long tryout at first base and Rolfe said he is holding him in reserve.

"He's always a possibility," Rolfe said.

Kolloway had only one hit in six pinch-hitting appearances this spring. He went hitless against the New York Yankees yesterday but walked once. He also was charged with one throwing error.

Taylor has 10 hits in 43 times at bat this spring.

Corcoran Takes Golf Job As Promotional Director

AUGUSTA, Ga.—(AP)—With the lid of secrecy knocked off "the Corcoran affair," touring professional golfers today considered three big problems:

How to win the Masters tournament beginning Thursday.

The rainy weather which cut short practice rounds yesterday and was predicted to continue.

And, whether Fred Corcoran, newly signed tournament committee promotion director, will win approval and backing reportedly necessary to complete the setting up of a new professional Golf Association bureau.

The new bureau not only is designed to promote tournaments and golf in general, but plans call for the bureau and Corcoran to assist in relations between touring golf stars and tournament sponsors.

A PGA meeting is set for April 21-23 in Chicago to consider tournament plans and the signing of Corcoran.

It was revealed to the Associated Press yesterday and later confirmed by numerous golfers and officials that Corcoran—deposed tournament director from 1936-1937 for the PGA—had been signed to a contract March 1.

Several reliable sources said that if Corcoran gets a strong vote of confidence in Chicago he will assume the duties given him by the contract.

Secret Contract

The secret contract, negotiated during the winter between the tournament committee and Corcoran and his lawyers, calls for the deluxe promoter to set up a New York office. It is proposed that he operate a promotional clearing house; supply information on tourney sites, dates and records; act as a public relations man and help in repairing relations between the stars and tournament sponsors.

Should he get backing in Chicago, Corcoran is expected to retain in full all other commitments and jobs, including his contracts as business manager and promoter for baseball players Ted Williams and Stan Musial and golfers Sam Snead, Jack Burke Jr., Jimmy Demaret, Babe Zaharias and Marlene and Alice Bauer.

He also is expected to keep his job as tournament director for the ladies' PGA.

Vote 5-2

The vote among tournament committeemen to hire Corcoran was, sources said, five for Corcoran, two against.

When Horton Smith, PGA president and co-chairman of the tournament committee, learned that the signing of Corcoran had reached the public last night he said he "did not consider the contract as necessarily binding on the PGA itself."

He added that it "was possible that some of the touring stars had a right to hire Corcoran as their promotion manager."

Funds to cover Corcoran's reported $12,000 per year salary are said to come from $3 per week assessments paid by a majority of the touring stars.

Corcoran left the men's PGA in 1947 after one of many controversies among the stars involving appearance money at tournaments, requirements for playing in tournaments, prize money and general personalities.

Pony League Plans Laid At Organizational Meet Last Night; Rooney President

Organizational plans for Pony League baseball in Escanaba were laid last night at a meeting at the city youth center attended by 16 backers of the program.

Pony League ball, similar in organization to Little League which got its start in Escanaba last summer, is played by boys 13-14 years of age. In effect, it is a continuation of the Little League program which includes boys from eight to 12 years of age.

Officers of the organization and a board of directors were elected last night. Francis Rooney was named president, Norman Hansen vice president, and Arthur Petersen secretary-treasurer.

The league will be organized on a six-team basis and will be completely uniformed and furnished with baseball equipment. Teams will play two games a week in league competition.

All boys of the eligible age group in the city will be prospective candidates for the teams. Team managers will be named to guide, coach, train and supervise the boys. Team personnel will be selected by a bidding system similar to that in the major leagues after the managers see all the boys in action in tryouts prior to the opening of the league schedule.

Raise Funds

Officers and directors of the program will begin a campaign this week to raise funds to finance the program. Money will be raised to purchase uniforms and equipment.

The Pony League will embrace 120 boys in Escanaba. Each of the six teams will carry 20 boys on its roster, 15 of whom will be uniformed with five others in reserve roles.

Cost of putting the Pony League on its feet was estimated at about $1,500 for the initial season. The league is expected to be self-supporting for the most part after this season, as equipment and uni-

Ohio Swimmer Plans Non-Stop Channel Crossing Both Ways

By E. C. JAMIESON
NEA Correspondent

COLUMBUS, O.—(NEA)—Jerry Kerschner has more energy than a carload of firecrackers.

The Columbus swim star won't be satisfied just to swim the English Channel. He also wants to turn right around and swim back again.

Kerschner is no Jerry-Come-Lately to the aquatic sport. During World War II, he was a member of the Great Lakes Naval Training Center relay team that established a world record. In 1943 he won a 12-mile marathon race in New York's Lake George.

As recently as last August, he won the 10-mile Canadian National Exposition Swim at Toronto in the excellent time of four hours, 26 minutes and 32 seconds.

Kerschner is confident he can conquer the Channel. In fact, it's not a case of doing it; it's a case of getting to the Channel in the first place.

Jerry picked up $1500 for winning the Toronto marathon but he says training and living expenses are so high that most of his bank roll is gone now.

He groans: "I've just got to get over there somehow this summer and swim that English Channel. I've been trying to make it for six years now but something always turns up to block the trip. Finances don't work out, or something."

Jerry points out that no one has ever swum the Channel and back again. Further, he declares the round trip is about 45 miles.

He says: "I covered about 35 miles one time in swimming from Fort Lauderdale to Miami in Florida."

He also recalls: "Back in 1946, I was on a tour of Hawaii and they called me the 'iron man' over there. In one meet I swam the 50 meters, 100, 200, 400, 800 and 1600 in that order and I won the last two in a breeze."

Kerschner annually receives an invitation from the London Daily Mail to participate in the Channel swim promoted by that publication and this year he wants to reply that he will be on hand for the occasion, scheduled for Aug. 12.

Regardless of whether he makes it to the Channel, he still

Michigan Baseball Team Gets Set For Southern Training

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(AP)—Michigan's baseball team scheduled another long workout today in anticipation of the first game of the southern training trip only three days away.

Coach Ray Fisher will take his Wolverines on its annual jaunt Thursday, with the first game set for Friday against Georgetown at Washington.

forms will be used for several years.

"We know this is an ambitious project for our community but we feel that Pony League baseball is one of the most valuable programs in existence," a spokesman said.

Supervised Program

"Pony League is a logical follow-up for Little League graduates and other boys who wish to join the program. It gives the youths two more years in organized baseball under the supervision and guidance of responsible citizens who are interested in the welfare of the boys."

"Pony League provides boys with wholesome recreation under strict supervision during the summer months. It seeks to teach a boy sportsmanship and fair play in competition with other boys under the rules and regulations of baseball, America's national pastime. It seeks to teach him self-respect and discipline and respect for the rights of others, to teach him the values of team play and the rewards of hard work. And it also teaches him to lose gracefully," he concluded.

Pony League is played on a junior size baseball diamond on which the bases are 75 feet, pitcher's rubber is 52 feet from home plate and a home run fence is 250 feet from home.

The League board and officers will meet next on Tuesday, April 15, at which time it is hoped to have sufficient funds to begin actual organization of the program.

Honor Athletes Of St. Joe Tonight At Pot-Luck Dinner

St. Joseph athletic teams will be honored at a testimonial dinner this evening at 6 at the parish hall.

The dinner is sponsored by the St. Joe Boosters club, their wives and mothers of players. Athletes honored include boys and girls of the high school basketball teams, the high school football team and the grade school cage teams. Letters will be presented to Coach Tom St. Germain's Trojan cagers.

Trans-Mississippi Golf Association Tourney Under Way

PHOENIX, Ariz.—(AP)—The Trans-Mississippi Golf Association launched its 22nd annual tournament today with a record field of 176 women contestants slated to tee off in the qualifying round.

By nightfall the lucky low 32 scorers will have qualified for the championship flight and the start of match play tomorrow.

The scene is the 6397-yard Arizona Country Club, par 38-37-75.

The defending champion is Mary Ann Downey from Baltimore.

FIRST WIN — Tommy Macda, booting 36-to-1 shot Air Pine home to victory at Gulfstream Park, became the first Japanese jockey in history to win a Florida race. It was the 17-year-old rider's first win in this country since coming here from Honolulu two years ago. (NEA Photo)

Lovellette Stars As Kansas Tips LaSalle

NEW YORK — (AP) — LaSalle's gritty Explorers had no formula for stopping big Clyde Lovellette, and as a result Kansas will meet the Peoria Caterpillars in the finals of the Olympic basketball trials tonight at Madison Square Garden.

Lovellette, the nearest thing to a scoring robot, stuffed 40 points through the cords last night as Kansas overcame the determined Explorers from LaSalle, 70-65, in perhaps the most thrilling game seen here this season.

In the opener, Peoria repeated its AAU title win over the Phillips Oilers by whipping the Bartlesville, Okla., club, 64-50, with surprising ease.

Make Olympics

By winning last night, Kansas and Peoria qualified seven players each for the U. S. Olympic team which will journey to Helsinki this summer. The coach of the winners of tonight's finals will head the Olympic aggregation.

Even the LaSalle rooters, some 4,000 strong from Philadelphia, were oooohing! and aaahing! at Lovellette's soft hook shots and clean tap-ins from under the basket. He racked up 18 field goals and four fouls.

The Explorers were forced to play without their great rebounder, Jack Moore, due to the death of his mother earlier in the day at Philadelphia.

Early Deficit

LaSalle, a fine shooting team, zoomed to a 24-12 lead just before the first quarter ended.

But the older, more experienced Kansans refused to get rattled. They played their regular game (try to pass into Lovellette, or shoot from the outside) and by halftime cut LaSalle's margin to 40-35.

In the final minutes Lovellette scored 15 straight points for his team, to give it a 65-59 lead. Kansas held on in the closing minutes to rack up its biggest win of the season.

The opener was a foul-filled contest, with Phillips losing five men—including seven-foot Bob Kurland—via the foul route. A 10-point spurge at the start of the third period iced the game for the Peoria five.

Coach Calls Big Clyde Lovellette Best In History

NEW YORK—(AP)—A baby-faced Indiana giant has forced Kansas' renowned basketball professor, Dr. Forest C. (Phog) Allen, to make some changes in his all-time list of hardwood greats.

"No all-time basketball team would be worthy of its name without Clyde Lovellette," the graying, 67-year-old court master said today. "I consider Lovellette the greatest player the game has produced."

Lovellette, six-foot-nine center from Terre Haute, Ind., set a record-shattering pace that carried Kansas to the NCAA championship and now into the finals of the Olympic trials at Madison Square Garden. He scored 40 points as Kansas beat LaSalle last night, 70-64.

"Until Lovellette came along I always considered Hank Luisetti, Stanford's star of the mid-thirties, the best I'd ever seen," the University of Kansas coach said. "Now I've had to revise my opinion."

"Here's my all-time team, with Lovellette heading the list: "Clyde Lovellette (Kansas); "Hank Luisetti (Stanford); "Bob Kurland (Oklahoma A&M); "George Mikan (DePaul); "Paul Endicott (Kansas).

"Lovellette not only is a big man but he has finesse. You seldom find a man with both of these attributes."

New Singles Leader In ABC Tourney

MILWAUKEE — (AP)—A new leader cropped up yesterday in the American Bowling Congress tournament.

He is Robert Kays, 29 year old Indianapolis lathe operator.

Kays came up with the highest series—699—shot to date in the regular team event in packing Kay Jewels, Indianapolis, to a 2,908 series and a tie for fifth place with the Harry's Men's Wear quintet of Elwood, O.

Kays has been bowling for 10 years and holds a 182 average in five leagues. This was his second ABC meet.

There was only one other change in the top ten.

Arthur Schreier, 34, Dayton, O., toolmaker, bowled 671 for an eighth place tie in the doubles.

Team:

Transue-Williams, Alliance, O., 2,938.
Silver Seal Sodas, St. Louis, 2,936.
Royal Supply Co., Detroit, 2,933.
Field and Wright, Jamestown, N. Y., 2,913.
Kay's Jewels, Indianapolis, Ind., and Harry's Men's Wear, Elwood, O., 2,908 (tie).

Doubles:

Harold Schrader-Victor Orler, Wheeling, W. Va., 1,291.
William Rich-William Darby, Davison, Mich., 1,267.
Elmer Carroll-Michael Randa, Pittsburgh, 1,258.
Carl Hardner-Ernest Newcomer, Erie, Pa., 1,238.
Chester Thompson-Robert Gullick, Conneaut, O., 1,237.

Singles:

Gray's Pitching Good As Tigers Lose 3 To 0

ST. PETERSBURGH, Fla.—(AP)—The work of southpaw Teddy Gray was the only bright spot as the Detroit Tigers suffered a 3-0 licking by the New York Yankees yesterday.

The Yanks previously hadn't been able to blank a team all spring and twice had succumbed to the Tigers in three previous meetings. The loss was Detroit's 11th in 20 exhibition games with today's contest with the St. Louis Cardinals the final in Florida.

Ted Gray only five hits and one run off Gray in six innings yesterday but the young left-hander was the victim of weak Detroit hitting in suffering his first loss of the training season.

Yankee Rookies
Harry Schaeffer, slender New York rookie southpaw, almost completely stifled the Tigers. He gave only one hit in seven innings on the mound and let only one man get as far as second base.

The Tigers got two more singles off Bill Miller, a righthanded rookie who followed, and loaded the bases in the eighth inning without scoring.

The Yanks picked up four more hits and a pair of runs off Paul Foytack and Wayne McLeland, who shared the last two innings.

Gray's work yesterday was in line with his performances all spring which have drawn praise from Manager Red Rolfe.

Spring Record
In 23 innings of spring exhibition games, Gray has given up 19 hits and just two runs. He has issued only seven walks, indicative of the improved control he has had this year over the 1951 spring training season when his wildness cost him numerous bases on balls.

The Yanks got their run yesterday off Gray in the sixth when Gil McDougald singled, moved up on an infield out and scored on another single by third baseman Andy Carey.

After today's Florida windup, the Tigers will have open dates tomorrow and Thursday before Leaf Lineup in the last big effort to overhaul the powerful Wings who will sit pat on their Saturday night team which swamped the Leafs 6-2 at Toronto following 3-0 and 1-0 shutouts at Detroit last week.

Plans Changes
Toronto Manager Conn Smythe said Monday he planned "two or three" changes and that he'll announce them at game time. Reporters on the hockey beat are guessing it will be goalkeeper Al Rollins for Turk Broadwa who was called in for the second and third games and one change each on defense and on the forward line.

Hugh Bolton probably will replace Jim Morrison on defense and

Slim Chance
The rampaging Red Wings, National Hockey League champions by a margin from here to there over the second-place Montreal Canadiens and third-place Leafs, are three games up on the Blue and White and a victory tonight would sew it up. A Wing victory also would mean the earliest closing-out date in years for professional hockey at Maple Leaf Gardens.

That's the situation as the principals come here today from their training camps—the Leafs from St. Catharines and Red Wings from Hamilton.

There'll be a reshuffling in the Wings Favored To Win Cincher

(By The Associated Press)
Needing just one victory to clinch a final spot, the pennant-winning Detroit Red Wings tackle the Toronto Maple Leafs tonight while the Montreal Canadiens tangle with the Boston Bruins in semi-final games of the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup playoffs.

The Wings will be favored heavily to sweep through to their fourth straight victory in the best-of-seven set in Toronto, but the Canadiens, who lead the Bruins, 2-1, might run into more trouble in Boston.

The Canadiens have been hard hit by injuries. Two of their centers—Kenny Mosdell and Johnny McCormack—have been lost. The latter broke an arm late in the regular season. Then, in the second playoff contest in Montreal, Mosdell suffered a leg fracture.

This turn of events has forced Coach Dick Irvin to move Dickie Moore, a prize rookie, to the center post on the third line, removing him from the Elmer-Lach-Maurice (The Rocket) Richard "punch" combination. Bert Olmstead will work with Lach and Richard.

As for the Toronto-Red Wing series, the Leafs are faced with the problem of beating a team that has been unbeatable. Leaf managing director Connie Smythe refuses to concede the series to the Wings.

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—"I want to win this one for Mexico," says Lauro Salas, who climbs into the ring tonight trying to upset Jimmy Carter of New York, the lightweight champion.

He feels he has a real chance of becoming the first native of Mexico to capture an undisputed world's boxing title. Lauro came to the U. S. in 1947 from Monterrey. He still helps support his family there.

Although fistie followers don't give 24-year-old Lauro much chance to dethrone Carter, a heavier puncher though four years his elder, they figure Salas will put up a good scrap. Most remember he was about a 7-1 underdog against then bantamweight champion Manuel Ortiz a couple years ago and trimmed the titlist in an overweight match.

Neither Lauro nor the sharp hitting 135-pound champion has ever been counted out, so tonight's battle at the Olympic auditorium may well go the 15-round limit. There will be no radio or television.

observers believe left-winger Danny Lewicki will get some activity for the first time of the series. One guess is that George Armstrong will be benched in favor of 21-year-old Lewicki.

Detroit will be minus Len (Red) Kelley, a defenseman who suffered a sprained wrist in the second game.

"We're not desperate, so we'll rest him to get the soreness out of the wrist," Manager Jack Adams told reporters.

The Leafs have an added incentive to take this one. They've never lost a playoff series in four straight.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
New York—Casey Stengel's operatives still are the ones to beat, even with the loss of Joe DiMaggio and the probable departure of Jerry Coleman to the Marine Corps. The Yanks still have a top pitching staff and some smooth newcomers, namely young Andy Carey, who probably will take over third base.

Cleveland—The Indians have the best "big four" pitching staff in baseball, and if any team is going to beat out the Yanks, it should be the Tribe. Bob Feller, Mike Garcia, Bob Lemon and Early Wynn can beat any team on any given day.

Boston—This is a puzzle. The Red Sox have been hitting, but haven't been getting much pitching. Their trouble down through the years. There's a feeling around the Grapefruit circuit that Lou Boudreau isn't satisfied with the team he inherited. The suspicion is that he'll give the veterans a chance and if they don't come through, he'll try to get rid of them.

Chicago—Manager Paul Richards seems to be in the same boat as last year when he astounded one and all in the first half of the season, then watched his club run out of steam. He says it will be a running team. But the question is: Will pitchers like Bill Pierce and Saul Rogovin come through? Most observers doubt it.

Detroit—No power, and Manager Red Rolfe knows it. He's hoping he can get a long ball hitter to back up a fair pitching staff. Art Houtteman ought to be of considerable help to the hurlers.

Philadelphia—This is the team that was old last year and is older this time around. Some experts are consigning the A's to the cellar.

Washington—The Nats, says Manager Bucky Harris, are a dozen games better than last season. They have a couple of top operators in third baseman Eddie Yost and outfielder Irv Noren who ought to draw in the trading mart.

St. Louis—The Browns have a new manager in Rogers Hornsby, a new shortstop in Marty Marion and a whole crew of question mark pitchers like Tommy Byrne and Gene Beardon. If they come through to help Ned Garver, no one would be surprised to see the Browns jump a couple of notches.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
New York—Pitching won it for the Giants last year, and Manager Leo Durocher apparently is going to rely on his elbowmen again.

Brooklyn—Here's the club that was rated tops all through the season last year. Don Newcombe, who won 20, has been lost to the service.

St. Louis—The darkhorse. The Cards have the power, and the word is that all they need is some pitching.

Boston—Manager Tommy Holmes would like to go along with a group of rookies and youngsters, but he seems to be somewhat doubtful yet. Best guess is that he'll divide the assignments.

Philadelphia—The Phils have shown more spark this year than last, and are heartened by the fact that Curt Simmons is due out of the Army.

Cincinnati—This looks like a three-man team. Ewell Blackwell and Ken Raffensberger each won 16 games last year and outfielder Johnny Wyrostek hit .311. They'll need more to improve their position.

Pittsburgh—Ralph Kiner, George Metkovich, Erv Dusak and Gus Bell give the pirates a good outfield, but only Murray Dickson is dependable among the pitchers.

Chicago—The Grapefruit champions of '51 and the cellar-dwellers in the regular season. Looks like the same thing is going to happen this year.

In yesterday's games, the Cards defeated the Phillies, 8-6; the Yankees shut out the Tigers, 3-0, and the Pirates and Browns played a 7-7 tie in 10 innings.

24 Years in National League NEW YORK—(NEA)—Q. What player hit the most grand slam home runs?
A. Lou Gehrig of the Yankees. During his long career, Gehrig cleared the bags with a circuit clout 23 times.

Q. Which major league catcher went through an entire season without making an error?
A. Buddy Rosar of the Philadelphia Athletics. In 1946, Rosar handled 117 games and posted a fielding average of 1.000.

Q. What was "Home Run" Baker's highest output in a season?
A. Baker gained his nickname, which followed him throughout his career, by winning two World Series games with homers in 1911. But, the ace Philadelphia A's third sacker never hit more than 12 homers in any one season.

Q. What pitcher set an all-time "gopher ball" record?
A. Murry Dickson, last year's 20 game winner with the Pittsburgh Pirates. In 1948, with the Cards, Dickson was nicked for 39 home runs.

Bible Verse Launches Couple On New Charm-Making Venture

AP Newsfeatures
KANSAS CITY—A Bible verse put a Kansas City couple in the mustard seed charm business. Now Maurice Flint and his wife, Mary, have all they can do to keep up with the demand.

They found that others, too, wanted reminders of the Bible verse: "If ye have faith as a mustard seed . . . Nothing shall be impossible unto you."

Letters of Gratitude
They have received letters of gratitude from actress Gloria Swanson and from a missionary in South America. Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, New York minister and writer, carries a supply with him for his friends.

Miss Mary Jane Truman, sister of the President, gave some to her fellow officers when she was installed as Worthy Grand Matron of the Order of Eastern Star in Missouri.

Principal part of the charm is a transparent plastic ball about a half an inch in diameter. In the center is a tiny mustard seed of the black variety, such as is grown in the Holy Land. They are made up as necklaces, bracelets, pins and key rings.

Business Worries
Back in 1947 when the Flints were living in Philadelphia, they spent a Sunday in New York. Both were worried over business setbacks. So they went to church.

"They heard Dr. Peale urge from the pulpit: 'Consult the Lord and leave your problems with Him.'"

"We started to do exactly what he said," Flint recalled, "but at the end of a week we would go back to worrying."

The need for a reminder stayed with Flint. One night the couple read a passage from the Book of Matthew about the mustard seed and faith.

Carried Seeds in Pocket
He got some seeds from the kitchen and carried them in his pocket. Then he experimented and put one between two halves of a plastic disc.

Flint, a salesman for an aircraft supply firm, had many opportunities to try out his reminder in the months that followed.

"I would be nervous and scared when I arrived at a big plane company to make a sale, but as I went in to keep my appointment I would put my hand on the disc holding the mustard seed and remember the verse from the Scripture," he said.

He figured that if a mustard seed proved an inspiration for him it might help others.

Worked in Basement
After further experimentation, Flint and his wife finally decided on the plastic ball design.

At first they did the work themselves in their basement, but as the demand grew from stores and

Times Getting Tough In Britain; Lords And Ladies Nick Tourists

LONDON — (AP)—The price of admission to the stately homes of England went up a few pennies Monday. The lords and ladies say times are getting tougher.

Rising costs were blamed for a new boost in prices for the chance to see what Britain's great used to live in. The annual open house season begins tomorrow and a full run of big houses will be available again on a pay-and-look basis, all corners welcome.

The new prices—up seven cents usually—average about 35 cents a visit. And there'll be no free tea.

The way things have been in Britain these past few years, many baronial halls and manor houses had to be put on exhibition to help pay the bills. Present occupants generally live in one small wing or two of the great establishments.

church organizations, they had to hire help, set up an assembly line and obtain larger quarters.

Flint had to design his own machinery and make his own dies, quite a job, he admits, for a man schooled as an electrical engineer.

Now they have a force of 12 full-time employees and three part-time employees turning out the charms and handling the business.

DID YOU KNOW?

That Chet Rice, one of Escanaba's substantial successful businessmen, has attended an unusually large number of Escanaba Council meetings during the past ten years.

DID YOU KNOW?

That a large number of Chet's friends who knew of his keen interest in our City Government urged him to become a candidate for election to the Escanaba City Council this spring.

DID YOU KNOW?

That, in Chet Rice's opinion, the city administration policies are fundamentally sound.

In a recent discussion of his views of our city government Chet said, "In my observation of the workings of the city administration over the past ten or twelve years I feel that the City of Escanaba has done very well. The Councilmen have done a good job. The city administration policies are fundamentally sound. I feel I am qualified to make a good councilman, and I will be very happy to serve all of the people of Escanaba as a member of the Escanaba City Council for the next four years."

Farm Labor Needs Studied

EAST LANSING—Fruit and vegetable growers are facing the 1952 season with prospects of a higher priced labor supply that will not be abundant.

So Michigan State College horticulturists have compiled a list of suggestions for easing the situation as much as possible. They also have made other suggestions that they believe will add profit to 1952 operations.

It will be especially important to plan seasonal labor needs and make arrangements for labor well in advance. Better planning of the vegetable operation and use of blossom thinning sprays, stop-drop sprays and "public pick plans" for fruits will help ease the labor problem and spread the available labor over a longer period of use. County agents will assist vegetable growers in planning planting dates and proper sequence of crops.

If long-time use of machinery is higher it still is a good buy compared to labor. Growers should watch for ideas to streamline their operations and keep their machinery in good repair to prevent breakdowns in rush seasons.

Fertilizer is today's best buy for fruit and vegetable producers and should be used abundantly. Band application methods on

Value Of Canadian Dollar Still Climbs

NEW YORK — (AP)—The Canadian dollar continued its upward climb today, trading here at its highest level since December, 1934. By mid-morning it commanded a price of one dollar and one-and-vegetables will make the best use of fertilizer, experiments at the college show. Irrigation equipment will be a good investment for many growers since better soil moisture conditions will boost yields and improve quality.

Little increase in cost of fungicides or insecticides is forecast for 1952 so spray programs should be well-planned and properly timed.

three-sixteenths cents in U. S. currency, after opening at a premium of one and one-sixteenth. The closing price on Friday was $1.01.

New York trading quarters said today's rise appeared to stem from intensified European and Canadian buying.

Earlier, the growing strength of the Canadian dollar had been attributed to the stepped-up tempo of American investments in Dominion enterprises.
